Cumpla con su deber. ¡Vote el 4 de noviembre!

El 4 de noviembre, las boletas electorales estatales llevarán los nombres de los candidatos que sobrevivieron a la Elección Primaria del 9 de septiembre de 2014.

Para gobernador y vicegobernador, este año estaremos escogiendo entre cuatro pares de individuos: Coakley y Kerrigan, Demócratas; Baker y Polito, Republicanos; Falchuk y Jennings, Partido Independiente Unidos; Lively y Saunders, Independientes; McCormick y Post, Independientes.

A nivel local, estaremos eligiendo a un Representante en el Congreso, un Senador Estatal y 3 Representantes del Estado, uno para cada uno de los tres distritos.

Decimoséptimo Distrito de Essex, Frank A. Moran, Lawrence, Demócrata.

Registro de Sucesiones, Condado de Essex, Pamela Casey O'Brien, Saugus, Demócrata VS Michael E. Morales, Andover, Republicano

Podríamos sonar repetitivos. Al igual que en las elecciones anteriores, nosotros solamente les damos los nombres de los candidatos; el resto es su decisión. Ha sido una larga campaña y los candidatos han sido muy elocuentes acerca de sus plataformas.

Por ahora, esperamos que su mente ya esté hecha. Incluso si no lo está, no importa, salga a votar. Es su deber. ¡No es sólo su obligación cívica sino un privilegio!

Do your duty. Vote November 4th!

Seventeenth Essex District, Frank A. Moran, Lawrence, Democratic.

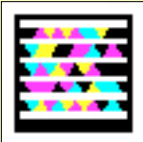

Register of Probate, Essex County, Pamela Casey O'Brien, Saugus, Democratic VS Michael E. Morales, Andover, Republican

We might sound repetitive. As in previous elections, we only give you the candidates' names; the rest is your decision. It's been a long campaign and candidates have been very eloquent about their platforms.

By now, we hope your mind is made up. Even if it is not, you must go out and vote. It's your duty. It's not only your civic obligation but a privilege!

Desde Mi Esquina

Las reparaciones de carreteras

¿Recuerda que el año pasado por esta época, la repavimentación de las calles se convirtió en un gran problema? Se dijo que era demasiado tarde en la temporada y tan sólo un par de semanas antes de las elecciones.

Pues...? Tres días antes las elecciones de este año se están reparando las calles y no hay comentarios.

Comencemos a pensar en las próximas elecciones

Tenemos todo un año para encontrar candidatos para sustituir a algunos miembros del Concilio de la Ciudad de Lawrence, en noviembre del 2015. No puedo hacer suficiente hincapié en la necesidad de abrir los ojos para ver cuán desinformados están cuando se trata de la forma adecuada para llevar a cabo una sesión del concejo, y cómo la Carta Constitucional de la Ciudad (City Charter) debe aplicarse en su proceso para tomar decisiones.

He expresado mi opinión sobre el concejo municipal muchas veces, siempre explicando mis motivos. Mi mayor queja es lo ignorantes que son de nuestra Carta Constitucional. Esto es como la biblia en la que se aclara todo y por ende, las cosas se simplifican.

Tome el tiempo para revisar mi columna del 1 de julio de 2014 en el que se explica el manejo del contrato del abogado de la ciudad. Comienza con el siguiente texto: "El abogado de la Ciudad, Charles Boddy, se fue la semana pasada como resultado de la negativa del alcalde a firmar un nuevo contrato, el hábito de los concejales de tomar decisiones a medias - tengo que corregir eso, la ignorancia de lo que hacen, y el hecho de que él ha tenido que soportar el maltrato y el menosprecio de ciertos miembros del concejo.

"No ha habido ninguna excusa ni razón alguna para no querer renovar su contrato y voy a explicar por qué creo que los concejales no han leído sus propias reglas parlamentarias como resultado de ello, actuando de manera ilegal."

En este artículo, he explicado cómo los concejales tuvieron una votación ilegal para despedir al Sr. Boddy la cual terminó en un empate de 4-4. La Concejala del Distrito A Sandy Almonte estaba ausente durante este voto y más tarde admitió que si bien apoya al abogado de la ciudad, sabía que no tenía los votos y si ella iba a la reunión, "le caerían encima" por su opinión. Como presidente del Comité de Personal, ella debió hacer acto de presencia para hacer su trabajo aunque "le cayeran encima" por hacer su trabajo.

Omitieron reglas y rompieron otras en la Carta Constitucional de la Ciudad haciendo sus acciones un estúpido circo. El abogado de la ciudad continúa en el puesto porque según el contrato que expiró, se renovó automáticamente por otros cinco años ya que el concejo municipal no actuó durante el tiempo requerido. El Alcalde Daniel Rivera ha anunciado la posición y están tomando las aplicaciones. Veremos qué sucede cuando estén listos para entrevistar y contratar a alguien para un puesto que no está legalmente (en la opinión del Sr. Boddy) disponible.

Dicho sea de paso, según la Carta Constitucional de la Ciudad, el procurador de la ciudad trabaja para el concejo, no para el alcalde. El alcalde debe firmar todos los contratos pero no tiene nada que ver con quién el concejo contrata. Por lo tanto, ¿por qué son tan obedientes a la voluntad del alcalde?

Los concejales están muy conscientes de una regla que se suele pasar por alto con respecto a los nombramientos temporales por 90 días y sin embargo, el Alcalde Rivera nombró a Theodore Rosario, el ingeniero agrónomo, como Ingeniero Civil en la ciudad durante un año para que se siente en la oficina para estudiar y ver si puede pasar el examen para obtener la licencia como ingeniero civil. El Presidente del Concejo Modesto Maldonado me aseguró que no le será permitido quedarse pasados los 90 días. Lo que no entiendo es por qué el concejo permitió que el alcalde hiciera un nombramiento ilegal por un año. Estoy segura de que no podrán echar atrás su decisión porque el Alcalde Rivera está haciendo lo que le place sin contar con el concejo.

Necesitamos gente fuerte en el concejo, personas que lean y sigan la Carta Constitucional de la Ciudad como fue establecida, gente que no se dejen intimidar por ningún alcalde, y personas que hagan su tarea cuando estén fuera de la Sala del Concejo.

Contrato de Comcast Cable

Recuerdo que el Contrato de Cable de Comcast expira el 4 noviembre y quise saber qué se ha hecho con él. Hace pocos días esta semana, me enteré de que una audiencia pública se llevó a cabo el 2 octubre en el Ayuntamiento. Después de llamar a varias de las personas que deberían haberlo sabido, me enteré de que la reunión pública había sido anunciada en la página de Lisa Torrisi en Facebook y el escribano de la ciudad más tarde me proporcionó copias del anuncio hecho en el Eagle-Tribune anunciando la audiencia pública.

Creo firmemente que este fue un esfuerzo concertado para mantener a la mayoría de la población de esta ciudad ignorante en cuanto al contenido de dicho contrato. Me he estado quejando sobre el poder que han dado a Lawrence Community Access Television (LCAT) para hacer frente a los intereses de nuestros residentes. Si alguien debería haber sido notificada que esta audiencia pública se llevaría a cabo, debí ser yo. Ese anuncio habría sido escuchado por la radio en español y desde luego en Rumbo - de forma gratuita!

Hubo muy pocos comentarios en la página de la Sra Torrisi ya que no tenían conocimiento de qué se trataba y fueron remitidos a un enlace donde pudieran leerlo.

Rich Russell, un ciudadano preocupado que asiste a todas las reuniones del concejo y se asegura de estar al tanto de todo lo que ocurre en la ciudad, respondió diciendo: "La primera oración del párrafo tres es una línea de basura. Ellos sólo están preocupados por su ganancia y les importa poco el cliente!"

Trabajando en secreto no es una buena forma de gobierno.

NECC Alumnus to Host Book Signing and Discussion

Ron Guilmette, a long-time resident of Salisbury and a retired Massachusetts state trooper, recently published a book featuring photographs of the 260-plus islands on Lake Winnepesaukee.

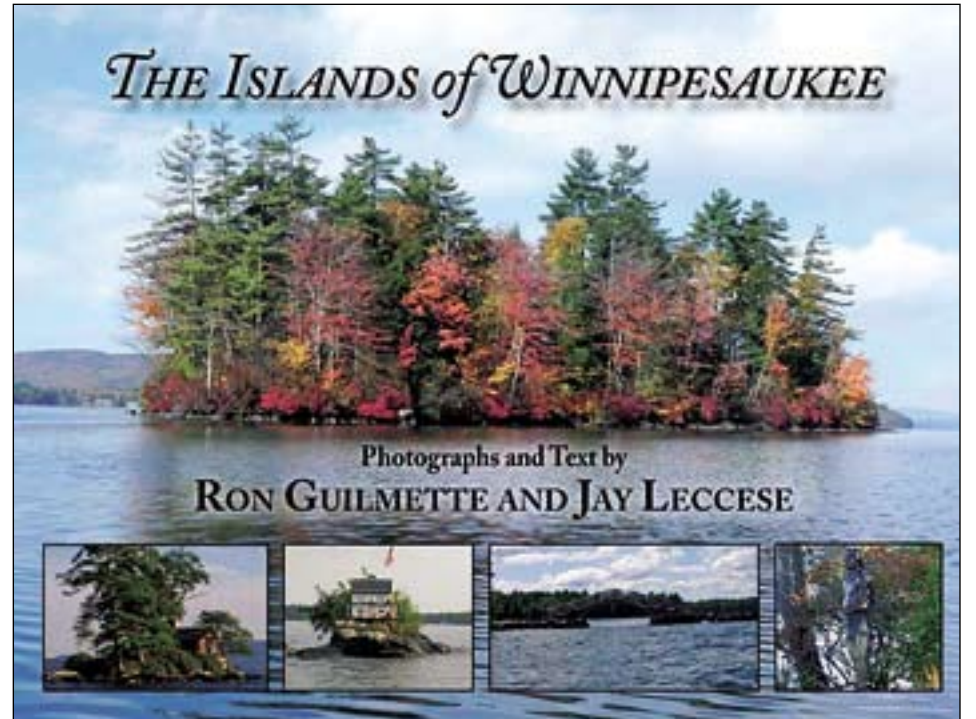

All event proceedings are scheduled to take place in the Hartleb Technology Center, 100 Elliott Street, Haverhill, from 12-2 p.m. Copies of the book will be available on site for sale.

Guilmette, a long-time resident of Salisbury, graduated from Northern Essex in 1974 with an associate degree in criminal justice and went on to fulfill a successful 32-year career as a police officer and Massachusetts state trooper. Upon retiring from the State Police force in 1999, he taught criminology courses at UMass Lowell and later Merrimack College, where he additionally worked as chief of police. Guilmette holds a master's degree from Anna Maria College and throughout the years has maintained a close relationship with NECC. He currently serves as the alumni-elected member of the Board of Trustees and as an active member of the Alumni Advisory Board.

Northern Essex Community College alumnus Ron Guilmette, avid kayaker and self-published author, will visit NECC's Haverhill campus on Monday, November 10th to discuss his debut book "The Islands of Winnepesaukee", co-authored by nephew Jay Leccese of Stoneham, Massachusetts. A brief signing and reception will follow.

"The Islands of Winnepesaukee" is an 11 x 9.5" coffee table book featuring color photos of and facts about each of Lake Winnepesaukee's 260-plus islands. Inspired by his and Leccese's cross-lake kayaking adventures, the book succinctly resolves the mystery of just how many islands dot the beloved New Hampshire lake. Stories and fun facts accompany each picture highlighted in the collection.

Cartas al Editor / Letters to the Editor

Sr. Editor:

La semana pasada, Massachusetts perdió tres residentes por motivo de incendios. Dos muchachos jóvenes de 4 y 9 años de edad murieron en un incendio en una vivienda multifamiliar de seis apartamentos en Lawrence después de quedar atrapados en su dormitorio del tercer piso. Los vecinos y miembros de la familia fueron incapaces de llegar a ellos y el fuego se extendió muy rápidamente para que los bomberos pudieran salvarlos.

Una mujer de 58 años, que fue encontrada en una silla de ruedas, también murió como consecuencia de un incendio en su casa en Springfield. Sus muertes elevan la cifra de muertos por fuego en el estado durante el 2014 a 49, el más alto que hemos tenido desde el 2011.

Muchas veces son los jóvenes y las personas con discapacidades los que resultan víctimas por las condiciones del fuego. Los detectores de humo son una herramienta eficaz para advertir a los residentes de un incendio sin embargo, lo único que pudo haber dado a los chicos el tiempo que necesitaban para escapar o a los miembros de rescate el tiempo que necesitaban para llegar es un sistema de rociadores contra incendios.

Por desgracia, hay personas que quitan la protección de un sistema de rociadores contra incendios en los hogares multifamiliares tal como el de Lawrence eliminándolos como parte del código de fuego cuando de nueva construcción se trata. ¿Cuál fue su razonamiento? Eso, mientras los aspersores contra incendios, sin duda, ahorrarían vidas, simplemente no hay suficientes muertes por incendio en Massachusetts para justificar el costo. La pregunta que planteo a la Junta de Reglamento de Construcciones y Normas que están calculando en la actualidad el valor de la vida humana es: ¿cuántas vidas tienen que perderse para justificar aspersores contra incendios en viviendas multifamiliares?

Envío mis condolencias a las familias de las víctimas y para las familias que han experimentado el verdadero costo de fuego en Massachusetts.

Atentamente,

John Grant, Presidente Asociación de Jefes de Bomberos de Massachusetts y Jefe del Departamento de Bomberos de Milton.

To the Editor:

Last week, Massachusetts lost three residents to fire. Two young boys aged 4 and 9 years died in a fatal blaze in a six bedroom multi-family home in Lawrence after becoming trapped in their third floor bedroom. Neighbors and family members were unable to reach them and the fire spread too quickly for firefighters to save them.

A 58 year old woman, who was found in a wheelchair, also died as a result of a fire in her Springfield home. Their deaths bring the state fire death toll for 2014 up to 49, the highest it has been since 2011.

Often times it is the young and the disabled that are overcome by fire conditions. Smoke alarms are an effective tool to warn residents of a fire yet the only thing that would have given those boys the time they needed to escape or first responders the time they needed to arrive is a fire sprinkler system.

Unfortunately, there are those that would have the protection of a fire sprinkler system in multi-family homes much like the one in Lawrence removed from the fire code for new construction. What was their reasoning? That, while fire sprinklers no doubt would save lives, there just are not enough fire deaths in Massachusetts to justify the cost. The question I pose to the Board of Building Regulations and Standards who are currently calculating the value of human life is: how many lives need to be lost to justify fire sprinklers in multi-family homes?

I send my condolences to the families of the victims and for those families who have experienced the true cost of fire in Massachusetts.

Sincerely,
John Grant, President Fire Chiefs Association of Massachusetts and Chief of Milton Fire Department.

LFDCS sponsored a High School Admissions Fair

Nahin I. Jorgee '07, Associate Director of Admission, Phillips Exeter Academy, NH, explaining the advantages of the school he represents to Esther Galvez and her mother Mrs. De La Cruz.

L/r -Astrid Corona and her mother Ana Lucía Cuevas asking all kinds of questions to Marilee Lin of Holderness School, located in Plymouth, NH.

Since 2009, Lawrence Family Development Charter School (LFDCS) has sponsored a High School Admissions Fair by inviting to its campus admissions representatives from parochial and independent boarding schools throughout New England. During the 2013-2014 year, the number of visiting schools increased. LFDCS hosted for dinner these Admissions staff members and included as a "Welcome Back" a number of special alumni who attend the fair as returning LFDCS graduates. Former LFDCS graduates accompany high school admissions staff to the High School Admissions Fair and are great "cheerleaders" for their new high school.

This past year, the High School Admissions Fair was open to 7th and 8th grade students who are accompanied by their parents which becomes an opportunity to learn about the great diversity of secondary school options. Invitations to the 2014 High School Admissions Fair, held on Wednesday, October 15th at Lawrence Family Development Charter School, 400 Haverhill St., were mailed to parochial and independent boarding schools and included Lawrence students who are excellent students and members of area youth development organizations. For most parents at LFDCS, the High School Admissions Fair is their first look at the diverse and unique characteristics of independent and private New England secondary schools.

The Lawrence Family Development Charter School Guidance/Placement Office is at the core of a successful high school transition program called "Opening Doors." Throughout the year, the Guidance/Placement Counselor, Carlos Cedeño, establishes the overall schedule of workshops to be delivered in the classrooms of grades 7 and 8, and is responsible for the outreach to area secondary schools as well as those throughout New England. The Guidance/Placement Office plans and manages the High School Admissions Fair which includes in-school presentations by admissions directors and coordinated visits to many of the schools. In addition, the Guidance/Placement Counselor meets with every eighth grade student and their parents to discuss best options, set the deadlines for applications and complete hundreds of required forms.

Mr. Carlos Cedeño is an experienced

Guidance/Placement Counselor, who works with LFDCS Principal Dr. Sue Earabino and Head of School, Ms. Stephanie Cross to increase the number of schools in LFDCS' outreach portfolio and provide new opportunities for students' consideration. The Guidance/Placement Counselor and the LFDCS upper school team assists eighth graders to submit applications to one or more admissions-based secondary schools and assists parents in filling out their financial aid forms. In addition, teachers are supported with writing recommendation letters and mailing over 200 applications.

To assist with the success of LFDCS graduates once they matriculate into high school, a full-time Alumni Coordinator, Ms. Amelia Hernandez-Marinez, supports LFDCS upper school student workshops and helps students, once accepted, make the transition to high school. Ms. Hernandez-Marinez brings an experienced perspective to her one-on-one work with students. In addition to helping to prepare members of the Class of 2015, she is responsible for meeting with all LFDCS graduates—Classes 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014—to follow-up on high school grades, monitor community service requirements and help alumni solve personal issues in order for them to focus their efforts on academic excellence.

Founded in 1995, the Lawrence Family Development and Education Fund, Inc.'s Lawrence Family Development Charter School (LFDCS) is one of the first K-8 Commonwealth public charter schools. As a "Level 1" public school for MCAS performance in 2012 and 2013, the work of the Lawrence Family Development Charter School is known for its best practices as a Massachusetts urban school. The school uses research-based practices for academic instruction and intervention, and supplements this instruction with after school and summer school programs.

Desde el 2009, la escuela Lawrence Family Development Charter School (LFDCS) ha patrocinado una Feria de Admisiones de Escuelas Secundarias invitando a sus representantes de admisiones del campus de escuelas de internados parroquiales e independientes en toda Nueva Inglaterra. Durante el año 2013-2014, el número de escuelas que nos visitan aumentó. LFDCS organizó una cena estos miembros del personal de admisión e incluyeron a un número de ex alumnos especiales que asisten a la feria como graduados de LFDCS. Estos ex graduados de LFDCS acompañan a miembros del personal de admisiones de las escuelas secundarias a la Feria y son grandes "cheerleaders" por su nueva escuela secundaria.

Este año, la feria fue abierta a los estudiantes de 7mo y 8vo grado que fueron acompañados de sus padres para tener una oportunidad para aprender sobre la gran diversidad de opciones de escuelas secundarias. Invitaciones a la feria del 2014 celebrada el miércoles, 15 de octubre en Lawrence Family Development Charter School, 400 Haverhill St., fueron enviadas a las escuelas parroquiales y de internados independientes e incluyen estudiantes de Lawrence que son excelentes estudiantes y miembros de organizaciones de desarrollo juvenil área. Para la mayoría de los padres en LFDCS, la feria es su primer vistazo a las diversas y únicas características de las escuelas secundarias de Nueva Inglaterra independientes y privadas.

La Oficina de Orientación y Colocación de Lawrence Family Development Charter School es el núcleo de transición de la escuela secundaria con éxito llamado "Abriendo Puertas". Durante todo el año, el Consejero de Orientación y Colocación Carlos Cedeño, establece el horario general de los talleres que son entregados en las aulas de los grados 7 y 8, y es responsable de la difusión en las escuelas secundarias de la zona, así como aquellos a través de Nueva Inglaterra. La oficina de Orientación y Colocación planea y administra la feria de admisiones lo cual incluye presentaciones en la escuela por directores de admisiones y visitas coordinadas a muchas de las escuelas. Además, el Consejero de Orientación y Colocación se reúne con cada uno de los estudiantes de octavo grado y sus padres para discutir las mejores opciones, establece los plazos de solicitud y completa cientos de formularios necesarios.

El Sr. Carlos Cedeño es un experimentado Consejero de Orientación y Colocación, que trabaja con la Principal de LFDCS la Dra. Sue Earabino y la Directora de la Escuela, la señora Stephanie Cruz para aumentar el número de escuelas en el portafolio de LFDCS para tener mejor alcance y ofrecer nuevas oportunidades que los estudiantes puedan considerar. El Consejero de Orientación y Colocación y el equipo de la escuela superior de LFDCS ayudan a los estudiantes de octavo grado para que envíen más de una solicitud a las escuelas secundarias basadas en admisiones y los asiste llenando sus formularios de ayuda financiera. Además, los maestros escriben cartas de recomendación y envían más de 200 aplicaciones.

Para ayudar en el éxito de los graduados de LFDCS una vez que se matriculan en la escuela secundaria, la Coordinadora de ex Alumnos, Amelia Hernández-Marinez, apoya los talleres para estudiantes de escuela superior y ayuda a los estudiantes, una vez que son aceptados a hacer la transición a la escuela secundaria. La Sra. Hernández-Marinez trae una perspectiva con experiencia para su trabajo de uno-auno con los estudiantes. Además de ayudar a preparar a los miembros de la Clase del 2015, ella es responsable de reunirse con todos los graduados de las clases del 2011, 2012, 2013 y 2014 de LFDCS para dar seguimiento a las notas en la escuela secundaria, monitorear los requisitos de servicio comunitario y ayudar a los alumnos a resolver asuntos personales para que centren sus esfuerzos en la excelencia académica.

Fundada en 1995, la Lawrence Family Development Charter School (LFDCS) de Lawrence Family Development Education

Fund, Inc., es una de las primeras escuelas públicas tipo charter K-8 del estado. Como escuela pública del "Nivel 1" según los resultados del MCAS en 2012 y 2013, el trabajo de la escuela Lawrence Family Development Charter School es conocido por sus buenas prácticas como una escuela urbana de Massachusetts. La escuela utiliza las prácticas basadas en la investigación para la enseñanza académica y la intervención, y complementa esta instrucción después de clases en la escuela así como programas de verano.

Kimberley Judd walked into DiBurro's Friday night, welcomed by a sea of red and blue. She smiled as she realized her hard work had paid off.

She passed by the juggler in Piccadilly Circus, walked across the London Bridge, through the fog at Westminster Abbey, and finally arrived at the 2014 LIFE Matters Awards Gala.

Judd, the event organizer and Director of Allied Health for the American Training's LARE Institute, had been there before. The party was familiar, many of the faces were the same, but she had never seen London brought to America quite like she and her team had on October 17.

The London-themed event, hosted by American Training, celebrated the organization's Partners and their 2014 award winners; Market Basket Associates as the LIFE Matters Award recipient, Injured Workers Pharmacy as Company of the Year, and Chase & Lunt as Vendor of the Year.

"It was inspiring to see the staggering number of people who turned out to support American Training at this year's LIFE Matters Awards Gala," Judd said.

"I hope old friends of American Training were able to enjoy the WOW! evening they have come to expect from us and that new friends of American Training were able to see first-hand, the passion that the Colleagues of American Training put into what we do every day."

With over 300 people in attendance from local businesses and organizations, the evening was a huge success. There was a magician, a hula hooper, a juggler, a

Ébola, o el derecho de vivir

Como la mayoría de la gente que lee las noticias en estos días y no tienen nada mejor o peor que hacer, estoy alarmado sobre los reportes relacionados con esta nueva epidemia llamada Ébola que ha matado a mucha gente en África y una persona en los Estados Unidos. Pienso, sin embargo, que nuestros temores y preocupaciones son innecesarios. Permítanme traer un nuevo punto de vista a esta reacción loca nacional y ver si puedo ayudar. Si ustedes tienen un punto de vista diferente, por favor déjenmelo saber.

Los virus y las infecciones no son nada nuevo; en realidad es posible que nos precedieran en la línea evolucionista. Si tuviéramos la oportunidad de tomar una foto de nuestras entrañas, yo rechazo la idea de hacerme un “selfie bacteriológico” para probar mi punto, nos sorprenderíamos de encontrar millones, en realidad miles de millones, de bacterias disfrutando la hospitalidad eterna de nuestro sistema digestivo. No conozco sus nombres, sus afiliaciones políticas o religiosas, o sus objetivos de vivir o cuanto lo han hecho o vivirán, pero sé que siempre que un médico receta antibióticos cuando tengo una gripe, muchas de esas bacterias anónimas se mueren “pronto” y tengo que deshacerme de ellas cuando visito el baño que, debido a los antibióticos, es usualmente muy frecuente.

¿Estoy claro? Somos “Hotel Bacteria” de cinco estrellas amigos. Como dije en la frase introductoria del párrafo anterior, las bacterias vinieron primero, los humanos después, y muchos biólogos se han preguntado si el reino animal vive para hospedar y alimentar a esas bacterias y no de la manera opuesta, un pensamiento que nos hace humilde, lo que me lleva directamente a este pánico de Ébola.

En la época de los mil novecientos ochenta nos enteramos de una nueva y alarmante enfermedad proveniente de África que se llamaba SIDA. Las letras significan Síndrome de Inmunidad Deficiente Adquirida. La condición que la precede se llama VIH, que significa Virus de Inmunodeficiencia Humana. La secuencia es importante para entenderlas: la última viene antes que la primera y entonces se transmiten y nos infectan. Ese es el comportamiento típico de un virus.

Parte del problema con los virus es que no pueden reconocer una cosa buena cuando se la encuentran. Si tuvieran un cerebro y fueran inteligentes cuando se riegan, evitarían un comportamiento agresivo que pueda matar al albergador, usted y yo. Los virus agresivos son impacientes y tratan de regarse rápidamente antes que sus hospederos mueran y los lleven a ellos a la muerte también. En un mundo ideal, los virus mutarían (se volverían) a una nueva versión donde ellos y los humanos que los alimentan puedan vivir juntos para siempre.

Si pudiéramos describir a la diabetes o la artritis, por ejemplo, como enfermedades causadas por virus, eso los calificaría de virus inteligentes, porque la mayoría de la gente sufre esos efectos por mucho tiempo sin morir rápidamente. Es más, algunas de esas bacterias “benevolentes” podrían haber comenzado su existencia con una agresividad menos positiva y se volvieron “buena gente” hacia nosotros para sobrevivir. Pero en esa mutación no hubo una decisión intencional, recuerden que los virus no piensan; simplemente ocurrió en su evolución y se sacaron el “lotto”.

Cuando el mundo comenzó su cruzada contra el SIDA una que existe todavía sin mucho ruido a propósito igual que el Ébola en África, uno de los objetivos de las drogas contra el virus era forzarlo a que mutara en un comportamiento menos agresivo que los protegiera a ellos y a sus víctimas, dándonos la oportunidad de tratar a los pacientes y es posible que haya ocurrido en algunos casos. Hay más casos de personas positivas de VIH que viven hoy día de los que había en las etapas tempranas del episodio epidémico, incluso algunos con SIDA completamente desarrollada y controlada, y es en África donde esa mayoría existe. Vale la pena advertir que el objetivo sin cuartel es erradicar la enfermedad, no aminorarla, y tenemos que seguir protegiéndonos contra ella. En estos días existe todavía demasiada gente que se muere de SIDA, particularmente niños de pacientes de SIDA, y la enfermedad no recibe la cobertura publicitaria que recibe Ébola.

En lo que al virus de Ébola se refiere, su comportamiento de contaminación no es muy diferente al del virus de SIDA, incluyendo su virulencia y la destrucción del hospedero. Igual que ocurre con el SIDA, para enfermarnos de Ébola, tenemos que ponernos en contacto directo con fluidos de aquellos que sufren la enfermedad, sangre, semen y saliva. No se transmite a través del aire. Es irresponsable médica y políticamente pensar que no volar hacia o desde países donde Ébola existe va a ser la solución.

El mundo ha sufrido serias epidemias en siglos anteriores. Miremos a estos ejemplos de gentes que murieron víctimas de algunas de ellas (Estadísticas de Wikipedia):

En los años 429 - 426 AEA (Antes de la Era Actual): 75,000 a 100,000 muertes en Grecia. Diagnóstico: Síntomas de una variedad de Tifoidea.

En los años 165-180 EA (Era actual), 30% de la población de Europa, Asia Occidental y África del Norte murieron. Diagnóstico: síntomas de viruela.

En los años 541-542 EA, 40% de la población Europea murió. Diagnóstico: Plaga Bubónica.

En los años 1346-1350 EA, 30 a 70% de la población Europea murió. Diagnóstico: Plaga.

En los años 1616-1619 EA, 30 a 90% de la población de Nueva Inglaterra donde vivimos, en su mayoría Americanos Nativos, murieron. Diagnóstico: Un coctel de diversas plagas y enfermedades. Probablemente se infestaron después de ser expuestos a virus desconocidos traídos a Norte América por los colonizadores. Hubo muchos otros, pero creo que con esto pueden tener una buena idea.

Sin embargo, ese conteo no es lo que me interesa. Cada año, muchos mueren de influenza porque se olvidan u oponen vacunarse contra la gripe o la neumonía; miles más mueren en accidentes automovilísticos porque no usan cinturones de seguridad. Tener un accidente de auto es una probabilidad remota de accidentarnos; una vez que lo tenemos, la probabilidad se convierte en una certeza de cien por ciento y si no usamos los cinturones podríamos convertirnos en un proyectil dentro del auto y matarnos cuando la cabeza choca contra el parabrisas, el timón, una puerta, o somos expulsados fuera del auto hacia la calle.

Usar cinturones de seguridad no garantiza que sobrevivamos un accidente de auto si estamos usándolos durante el accidente, pero la probabilidad de sobrevivir es mayor. Recientemente, dos jóvenes mujeres en los treinta sufrieron un accidente de auto en el Jamaica Way de Boston. Murieron en el accidente, y la prensa reportó que no estaban usando cinturones de seguridad. Las pobres se convirtieron en tristes estadísticas. No tengo más que decir. Desde luego, como el famoso anuncio simpático en televisión recomienda contra la acidez, “no tenga una en primer lugar”. Lo mejor es evitar los accidentes: no tomar bebidas alcohólicas, no “textear” con los celulares, y siempre observar las leyes del tráfico.

¿Cuál es la probabilidad de que usted se infecte con el Ébola? Muy remota si vive una vida normal y sana en este país de más de trescientos millones de habitantes y no practica intercambios inseguros de fluidos con otros seres humanos, incluyendo en esa lista no usar contraceptivos sexualmente activo, esté enfermo o no. El gobierno, tanto federal como estatal, está haciendo todo lo posible para bloquear la epidemia; esperemos que hagan lo correcto. Mientras tanto, relájese, vacúnese contra la gripe, use sus cinturones de seguridad cuando maneje, tome sus medicamentos como se le recetó su médico y probablemente va a ser capaz de leer mis artículos de Punto de Vista por mucho tiempo. Bueno, yo no sé si leerlos es peligroso para su salud mental, pero de una cosa si estoy seguro: eso no es una enfermedad contagiosa, ¿no es cierto?

Y ese es mi Punto de Vista hoy.

A POINT OF VIEW

By Paul V. Montesino, PhD, MBA, CCP

Ebola, or the right to live

As most people who read the news these days and have nothing better or worse to do, I ‘m alarmed about the news regarding this new epidemic outburst called Ebola that has killed many folks in Africa and one in the USA. I feel, however, that our fears and concern are unnecessary. Let me bring a new point of view to this insane reaction and see if I can help. If you have a different take, please let me know.

Viruses and infections are nothing new in nature; actually they may have preceded us in the evolutionary timeline. If we had an opportunity to take a picture of our own entrails, I refuse to get my own “bacteriological selfie” to prove my point; we’d be shocked to find that millions, actually billions, of bacteria enjoy the lifelong hospitality of our digestive system. I don’t know their names, their political or religious affiliation, or their goals of staying alive and how long they actually have lived or will live, but I know that every time a doctor prescribes antibiotics when I have a nasty cold, many of those anonymous bacteria die “pronto” and I get rid of their remains when I visit the restroom which, due to the antibiotics, is usually often.

Am I clear? We are a five star “Bacteria Hotel” big time folks. As I said in the introductory sentence to the previous paragraph, bacteria came first, humans later, and many a biologist has declared that the animal kingdom lives to host and feed those bacteria, not the other way around, a sobering thought, which brings me straight to this Ebola panic.

In the early nineteen eighties we became aware of a new alarming disease coming from Africa that was named AIDS. The letters stand for Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome. The condition that precedes AIDS is called HIV, which stands for Human Immunodeficiency Virus. The sequence is important to understand in order to make some sense: the latter, comes

National Grid Promotes Energy Careers

There are careers in the energy industry.

That is the message that representatives from National Grid brought with them when they spoke to more than a dozen Northern Essex Community College engineering students and their professors last week.

"The workforce in the energy field is aging," said James Bell, a mechanical engineer who works in the new products and energy services group at National Grid. "We need young bright, innovative, individuals to fill these spots."

Bell, along with three other National Grid employees, is taking the "there are careers in energy" message to colleges campuses. Each shared his or her own career path within the energy industry. While Bell studied engineering in college, Eliza Davis was a political science major, Mona Chandra, was an architect, and May Moy was an industrial engineer. Each had a circuitous route to a career in the energy field, but each noted that they found a field in which they developed a deep interest.

They encouraged the students to visit the National Grid website and research the internship opportunities. A solid GPA as well as special certifications like LEED certification will help boost their chances of securing an internship they said.

The presentation included an overview of National Grid which is an international company that employs 28,000 people. It has 3.4 million electric customers and 3.6 natural gas customers throughout New York, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island. The company delivers natural gas and electricity, promotes energy conservation, as well as promotes innovative solutions to reduce energy usage through new technologies and energy efficiency programs.

Branscombe Dubina, 20, of Groveland, was one civil engineering student interested in what they had to say. "I thought it was a really good presentation," he said. "It sounds like there might be some good opportunities for internships. I will definitely be following up."

"I didn't know National Grid was all about energy efficiency," said Dipal Patel, 19, of Salisbury, an electrical engineering student. "They are more than just about power,"

Las políticas y la información en la red

Por Prof. Nelson Silvestre

Cabe destacar que la Re-ingeniería de las comunicaciones ha venido a redefinir las comunicaciones del Siglo XXI.

Es una línea estratégica acorde a los tiempos con respaldo necesario para la ejecución en la red. En la nueva tecnología de la información como material de trabajo para la nueva generación de los políticos.

En los últimos años las redes sociales han tomado un auge importante en la comunicación de los políticos y la política. En la prensa se ha constituido un equipo de apoyo con el que se hace posible una permanencia constante en los medios masivos de la comunicación. También se hace notar que cuenta con una relación primaria con los medios externos a los periodistas asignados a la fuente noticiosa que constantemente se les suministran las informaciones. En la página Web se puede ver la red de liber nauta con una enorme cobertura produciendo la noticia.

Las redes sociales cuentan con Twitter y Facebook de manera directa y con vínculos directos.

La nueva generación de políticas tendrá que tener en cuenta comunicadores alternativos que funcionen como una unidad interactiva quienes participarán en los espacios radiales. No debemos olvidar la publicidad enriquecida con las nuevas herramientas para el fortalecimiento y mantenimiento de los fundamentos políticos y su imagen hacia la sociedad.

En la nueva re-ingeniería de la política actual no debemos olvidar los programas de televisión, la radio como motor principal para alimentar el equipo de apoyo de la información. Los políticos de las nuevas generaciones deben trabajar en las relaciones públicas especializadas como instrumento o herramientas que influyen en casi todos los ámbitos de la sociedad.

Politics and information on the Web

By Prof. Nelson Silvestre

I have come to the conclusion that reengineering communications has come to redefine the communications of the XXI Century.

The new information technology is working material for the new generation of politicians. In recent years, social networks have taken a major boom in communicating policy and politics. In the press there has been a support team which enables a constant presence in the mass media of communication. It is also noted that it has a primary relationship with the external media reporters assigned to the news source that are constantly supplying the information. On the website you can see the network producing news coverage all around the world.

Social networks like Twitter and Facebook have a direct link to the news without someone having to look for the news itself.

The new generation of politics will have to consider alternative communicators functioning as an interactive unit who will participate in the radio spots. We must not forget advertising that is enriched with new tools for building and maintaining the political foundations and their image in society.

In the new reengineering of current politics we must not forget TV programs and radio stations as the main engine to power the information support team. Politicians of the new generation must work in specialized public relations as a tool to influence almost all aspects of society.

photo booth, a cupcake Tower of Yumdon, a candy bar in the land of Candelot, 50/50 raffles, silent auctions, a delicious meal, proclamations delivered by State Rep. Marcos Devers and so much more. But the real focus of the evening was the award recipients.

"Each of our Award winners embodies a people first philosophy that has translated not only into financial success but into amazing opportunities for those most vulnerable in our communities," said American Training President and CEO Tom Connors.

"Their support of our programs throughout the year further enhances just how much Life really does matter."

Vendor of the Year Chase & Lunt and Company of the Year Injured Workers Pharmacy were recognized for their excellence in customer service and commitment to serving both customers and employees.

The final recipients were the Market Basket Associates, all of whom earned the 2014 LIFE Matters Award for their dedication to caring for people. Over the last year, the nation learned just how committed these associates were to each other, their company, their boss, their customers. And why? Because they value people over anything and everything, something American Training holds in high regard.

"We are always looking out for our customers," said Joe Schmidt, Market Basket's Supervisor of Operations, of just how much they care for their customers. "People looking out for others, allowing people to reach their full potential. This is something that lies in the core values of both Market Basket and American Training."

Among the recipients were a few American Training Guests, or adults with disabilities, who are Market Basket Associates. With pride they accepted the award alongside their fellow associates of Market Basket.

"On behalf of Arthur T. Demoulas, his wife Maureen, his mother Irene Demoulas, and all of us at Market Basket, it is an honor to receive the American Training LIFE Matters Award," said Schmidt as he accepted the award. "We are humbled by the recognition."

MR. B'S SPORT STORIES

BY FRANK BENJAMIN

Mr. B's Sports Stories are published on the 1st and the 15th of each month.

Thanksgiving week at LHS in 1953

Bobby Souma was named the LHS Athlete of the Month of November in 1953. He made approximately 70% of the team's tackles as a middle linebacker and played center on offense. He was also used as a fullback on offense. Bob was a graduate of the Tarbox School and along with his teammates they were readying for the big Turkey Day game against up city rivals Lowell HS. The meeting of these teams ranks with the longest rivalries throughout the State of Mass.

The following lists some outstanding games by the blue and white and features some former athletes that now teach at the local school. In 1902 Walter (pop) Sidley was the star of the game with the final score 6/5 Lawrence. Touchdowns counted for 5 points in those days. Sidley was the 1954 chief of staff of the Civics Department.

Leo Higgins the 1954 head of the German Department, scored the winning TD. Higgins played in 3 Thanksgiving games and was the winner twice and tied once. The late Bill Higgins a phys ed teacher played 4 years against Lowell and he also never lost to them.

Ernie Perry an icon in LHS sports was a 3 year starter and scored a TD; his team shut out Lowell 20/0. The track at the Lawrence Stadium bears his name and his son Ernie Jr. still coaches track in the area. The Perry family name is still alive and well in this area as John and EJ are coaches. EJ has a son who is following the Perry string of players; one mustn't forget the Perry girls that carried on with their fine talents.

John Kennedy head of the History Department, Clarence Labonte a Cregg Medal winner whose son won the same award in 1952, Jimmy Jordan, Dennis O'Sullivan in 54 was the schools printing instructor, and The Great Ralph Wolfendale all performed for the blue and white in these Turkey Day classics. Ralph's team handed Lowell its worst defeat of the series as they romped to a 53/0 win.

In an interview on the eve of the big game the great coach and now the athletic director Mark Devlin who by the way was a teammate of the great Jim Thorpe and who led his college team Holy Cross to an 11/0 over rival Boston College and won many of these Thanksgiving games while a coach. Devy gave this answer: "Seeing Henry Quelette run 50 yards for the winning TD against Malden giving Lawrence the mythical State Championship was one of my greatest sport thrills."

School happenings on this exciting week, at the barn dance the students had a great time. In attendance were, Billy Peters and Fran Stott, Nan Chamberlain and Franny Franks, Aimie Reming and Sally Young, Billy Hickey and Carol Hulme, Elaine Habib and Bob Dion, George Habib and Judy Hassey.

The huge football rally held at the gym featured a speech by Norm Salem one of Coach Doherty's "Watch charm guards," Dom Mazocco was the other. Salem's speech was applauded by the crowd and here are some of those attending. Dot Rudiger, Nan Chamberlain, Franny Franks, Nancy Jordan, Ellie Daher, Billy Soper, and Ed Robichaud.

There was much excitement and school spirit as the holiday season approaches.

This was the 1953/54 year at LHS.

before the former and then they spread and infect us. That's the typical behavior of any virus.

Part of the problem with viruses is that they don't know a good thing when they find one. If viruses had a brain and were intelligent survivors when they spread, they'd avoid aggressive behavior that might kill their hosts (you and me). Aggressive viruses are impatient and try to spread quickly before their hosts die and carry them to death as well. In an ideal world, viruses would mutate to a healthier version where they and their human hosts feeding them can live together forever.

If we could call diabetes or arthritis a "virus-caused" disease, for example, it would qualify those viruses as intelligent, because most folks live long lives suffering those conditions without dying quickly. As a matter of fact, some of the benevolent bacteria we hold internally these days may have started under a less positive outlook and became "nicer" to us in order to survive. But that mutation was not an intentional decision, remember that viruses don't think; it simply happened in their evolution and they won the "lotto."

When the world started its crusade against AIDS, as Ebola in Africa as a matter of fact, one of the goals of the drugs against the virus was to force it to mutate into a less aggressive behavior that would protect their victims and themselves to give us an opportunity to treat the patients, and in a way it may have happened. There are more HIV positive people living today than in the early stages of the epidemic episode, some even with fully developed and controlled AIDS, and again Africa is the stage where most of that occurs. It's worth warning that our objective without pause is to eradicate the disease, not to reduce it, and we have to continue safe behavior as protection against it. These days, there are still untreated folks dying of AIDS, particularly children of AIDS patients, and the disease doesn't get the press coverage Ebola gets.

As for the Ebola virus, its spreading behavior isn't much different from the AIDS virus, including its virulence and the destruction of the host. As AIDS, in order to get Ebola, we have to be directly exposed to fluids of those suffering from the disease; blood, semen and saliva. It isn't airborne. It is irresponsible medically or politically to think that not flying to or from countries where Ebola is active, will do the trick alone.

The world has suffered serious epidemics for centuries before. Look at these examples of people who died from some of them (Statistics source from Wikipedia):

In the years 429 - 426 BCE (Before the Current Era): 75,000 to 100,000 deaths in Greece. Diagnosis: Typhoid type symptoms.

In the years 165-180 of the CE (Current Era), 30% of the population of Europe, Western Asia and Northern Africa, died. Diagnosis: smallpox symptoms.

In the years 541-542 of the CE, 40% of the European population died. Diagnosis: Bubonic Plague.

In the years 1346-1350 of the CE, 30 to 70% of the European population died. Diagnosis: Plague.

In the years 1616-1619 of the CE, 30 to 90% of the New England population where we live, mostly Native American tribes, died. Diagnosis: a cocktail of all kinds of plagues and diseases. They probably were infected after being exposed to unknown viruses brought to America by the new settlers. There have been many more, but I'm sure you get my point.

However, that old count isn't my concern. Every year, many of us die of influenza because we forget to get the flu or pneumonia shots; thousands more die in automobile accidents because we fail to wear seat belts. Having an auto accident falls within the remote probability of having an accident; once that probability becomes a one hundred percent certainty, if you are not wearing seat belts, you become a projectile inside the car and may kill yourself when you hit a windshield, a steering wheel, a door, or are thrown out of the car.

Wearing seat belts is no guarantee that you'll survive an auto accident if you are wearing them during an accident, but the probability of surviving the accident is higher. Recently two young women in their thirties suffered an auto accident in Boston's Jamaica Way. They died and the press reported that they weren't wearing seat belts. They became statistics. Enough said. Of course, like the famous heartburn ad on television that recommends not having heartburn in the first place, the best choice is to avoid accidents. Don't drink alcoholic beverages, don't "text", and always respect traffic laws.

What is the probability that you'll get Ebola? Very remote if you live a healthy and normal life in this country of three hundred million plus people and don't practice unsafe fluid exchanges with other human beings, including not wearing contraceptives, whether sick or not, by the sexually active. The government, both federal and state, is doing all it reasonably can to block the spread of Ebola. Let's hope they do the right thing. In the meantime, relax, have your flu shots, wear your seat belts, take your prescription medications, and you'll probably be able to read my Point of View articles for a long time. Well, I don't know how dangerous that is for your thinking health, but I'm sure it isn't a contagious disease, is it?

And that's my Point of View Today.

From My Corner

Road repairs

Do you remember that last year about this time, repaving the streets became a big issue? It was said that it was too late in the season and only a couple of weeks before elections.

Well...? Three days before this year's elections roads are being repaired and there are no comments.

Let's start thinking about next elections

We have a whole year to find candidates to replace some members of the Lawrence City Council in November of 2015. I cannot emphasize enough the need to open our eyes to see how uninformed they are when it comes to the proper way to conduct a council meeting and how the City Charter should apply it to their decision-making process.

I have expressed my opinions regarding the city council many times, always explaining my reasons. My biggest complaint is how ignorant they are of our City Charter. This is like our bible spelling out everything and when followed, things would be simplified.

Take the time to check my column of July 1, 2014 where I explained their handling of the city attorney's contract. It begins with the following: "The City Attorney, Charles Boddy, left last week as a result of the mayor's refusal to sign a new contract, the city council's half-baked decision-making process – let me correct that, ignorance of what they are doing – and the fact that he has had it with the abuse and disrespect with which he has been treated by some members of the council.

"There has been no excuse or reason for not wanting to renew his contract and I want to explain why I believe that the councilors have not read their own parliamentary rules as a result, acting illegally."

In that article I explained how the councilors took a vote to fire Mr. Boddy which ended up in a 4-4 tie. District A Councilor Sandy Almonte was absent for that vote and she later admitted that while she supported the city attorney, she knew he didn't have the votes and if she showed up she was going "to get beat up." As chair of the Personnel Committee, she should have made herself available for that beating – and do her job!

They omitted rules and broke others in the City Charter making their actions a stupid circus. The city attorney remains on the job because according to the expiring contract, it was automatically renewed for another five years since the city council failed to act. The way it stands is that Mayor Dan Rivera advertised the position and they are taking applications. We'll see what happens when they are ready to interview and hire someone for a position that is not legally (in Mr. Boddy's judgment) available.

By the way, according to the City Charter, the city attorney works for the city council, not the mayor. The mayor must sign all contracts but has no say on who the council hires. So, why are they so obedient to the mayor's wishes?

Councilors are very aware of a rule that is customarily ignored regarding 90-day temporary appointments yet Mayor Rivera appointed Theodore Rosario, the agronomist, as City Engineer for one year to sit at the office to study and see if he can pass the civil engineer license. Council President Modesto Maldonado assured me that he will not be allowed to stay beyond the 90 days. What I don't understand is why the council allowed the mayor to make an illegal one-year appointment. I'm sure they won't be able to undo his decision because Mayor Rivera is walking all over the council.

We need strong people in the council, people who read and follow the City Charter as it was established, people who are not intimidated by any mayor, and people who do their homework when they are off the Council Chamber.

Comcast cable contract

I remember that the Comcast Cable Contract expires on November 4th and I wanted to find out what has been done with it. Just a few days ago this week, I found out that a public hearing took place on October 2nd at City Hall. After calling several people who should have known, I found out that the meeting had been advertised in Lisa Torrisi's Facebook page although the city clerk later provided me with copies of the Eagle-Tribune notice of the public hearing.

I firmly believe that this was a concerted effort to keep the majority of the population of this city ignorant as to the content of such contract. I have been complaining about the power given to Lawrence Community Access Television (LCAT) in dealing with the interests of our residents. If anyone should have been notified that this public hearing was to take place, it should have been me. That announcement would have been all over Spanish radio and certainly in Rumbo – free of charge!

There were very few comments offered on Ms. Torrisi's page showing that they had no knowledge of what it was about and they were referred to a link where they could read it.

Rich Russell, a concerned citizen who attends every council meeting and makes sure to be on top of everything happening in the city, responded by saying, "The first sentence in paragraph three is a line of crap. They are only concerned about their bottom line and could care less about the customer!"

Working in secrecy is not a good form of government.

El Presidente y CEO de MVFCU es honrado por agencia local sin fines de lucro

Peter Matthews recibe "Premio Héroe de la Comunidad" de Emmaus, Inc.

Emmaus, Inc, una agencia comunitaria sin fines de lucro de vivienda con sede en Haverhill, recientemente honró a Peter Matthews, presidente y CEO de Merrimack Valley Credit Union con su "Premio Héroe de la Comunidad."

Matthews aceptó el premio en el Doceavo Desayuno Anual de Emmaus "Pavimentación de la Ruta Hacia el Hogar" celebrado en DiBurro's Function Hall el 9 de octubre. El evento contó con la presencia de 300 personas, muchas de las cuales eran líderes empresariales y de la comunidad en el Valle de Merrimack.

Heidi Michitson, residente de Haverhill y receptora del "Premio Héroe de la Comunidad" del año pasado presentó el honor a Matthews y describió cómo Matthews y Merrimack Valley Credit Union han apoyado a Emmaus desde hace más de una década, auspiciando eventos de Emmaus, como el desayuno anual "Pavimentación de la Ruta Hacia el Hogar" y su recaudación de fondos más grande, Cycle for Shelter, que se celebra cada mes de julio.

"Bajo el liderazgo de Peter, Merrimack Valley Credit Union ha sido uno de los ángeles de Emmaus", dijo Michitson. "Peter y su personal han contribuido cientos de miles de dólares para resolver la falta de vivienda. Peter y su equipo también han donado artículos de una lista de deseos para nuestras familias y personas necesitadas desde alimentos hasta artículos para niños."

Michitson continuó: "Peter es un ejemplo en la comunidad empresarial. Él está a la cabeza en el apoyo a los más necesitados a través de recursos financieros, donaciones y el voluntariado".

Mientras aceptaba el reconocimiento, Matthews hizo hincapié en que se trata de sus empleados que trabajan todo el año para recaudar fondos para Emmaus y la generosidad de los miembros de la Unión de Crédito que hacen que todo sea posible.

"Tengo la suerte de trabajar con un gran grupo de empleados", dijo Matthews. "Yo no creo que sea complicado. Todos estamos aquí hoy... porque creemos en Emmaus y sé que de ahora en adelante vamos a seguir haciendo lo mejor que podemos y sé que ustedes van a hacer lo mismo. ¡Es una organización tan maravillosa!"

Merrimack Valley Credit Union President and CEO Honored by Local Non-Profit

Peter Matthews given this year's "Community Hero Award" by Emmaus, Inc.

Emmaus, Inc, a non-profit community housing agency located in Haverhill, recently honored Peter Matthews, president and CEO of Merrimack Valley Credit Union with their "Community Hero Award."

Matthews accepted the award at Emmaus' 12th Annual "Paving the Road Home" Breakfast held at DiBurro's Function Facility on October 9. The event was attended by 300 people, many of whom were business and community leaders in the Merrimack Valley.

Haverhill resident Heidi Michitson, recipient of last year's "Community Hero Award" presented the honor to Matthews and outlined how Matthews and the Merrimack Valley Credit Union has supported Emmaus for more than a decade, sponsoring Emmaus events such as the annual "Paving the Road Home" breakfast and its largest fundraiser, Cycle for Shelter, which is held every July.

"Under Peter's leadership, the Merrimack Valley Credit Union has been one of Emmaus' angels," said Michitson.

"Peter and his staff have contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars to resolving homelessness... Peter and his staff also have donated wish-list items to our families and individuals in need from food to children's items."

Michitson continued, "Peter serves as an example in the business community. He leads the way in supporting those in most need through financial resources, donations and volunteerism."

As he accepted the award, Matthews stressed that it is his employees who work all year long to raise money for Emmaus and the generosity of the Credit Union's members that make it all possible.

"I am fortunate to work with a really great group of employees," Matthews said. "I don't think it's complicated. We are all here today ...because we believe in Emmaus and I know going forward we're going to continue to do the best we can and I know you're going to do the same thing. It is such a wonderful organization."

Community Action, Inc. Opens Nomination Process for Award

Community Action, Inc. (CAI) is accepting nominations of "local champions" for the Community Champion Award as part of their Community Recognition Night and Roast on Thursday, May 15, 2014 at the Renaissance Golf Club. Nominations of area residents that exemplify the Community Action values of building hope and offering assistance with respect and understanding will be accepted until April 9. Six candidates will be recognized for their exceptional contribution to the community and to improving the quality of life and well-being of an individual, family, or community on May 15, 2014 at the Community Recognition Night and Roast.

"This is our way of bringing the community together to highlight the similarities among us, across many unique and different passions," said Community Action, Inc. Executive Director John Cuneo. "The goal is to recognize the hard work of people throughout our service area and say 'thank you' as a group."

More than 100 nominations are expected from residents of CAI's primary service area of Amesbury, Boxford, Georgetown, Groveland, Haverhill, Merrimack, Newbury, Newburyport, Rowley, Salisbury, and West Newbury as part of the annually event. Community Action, Inc. has already selected Greater Haverhill Chamber of Commerce President, Sven Amirian to be the honored guest, acknowledging his strong drive for inclusion of individuals and businesses in community development and his ability to bridge many conversations for the greater good of the region.

"It is really moving to be recognized for my work considering the stories we hear about Community Action and the impact they have with their clients," said Greater Haverhill Chamber of Commerce President, Sven Amirian. "I'm looking forward to this event and hearing about all of the great accomplishments of the 'Community Champions,' and poking some fun at my expense will be good too."

Staying on theme with its annual 'comedy for a cause' night, the evening will conclude with comedy and a roast of Sven by nationally-known comedian Paul Nardizzi. A repeat guest on the Late Night with Conan O'Brien, and winner of the 2001 Boston Comedy Festival and HBO's U.S. Comedy & Arts Festival, Nardizzi is an accomplished comedian with a truly local flare.

SNHU Announces Fall 2014 Film Series

The School of Arts and Sciences at Southern New Hampshire University will present a semester-long free series of classic films selected and introduced by SNHU faculty. Each film will be presented in Southern New Hampshire University's Walker Auditorium in Robert Frost Hall.

"Building on the success of the original Shakespeare film series in 2011, the School of Arts & Sciences continues its yearlong showing of notable films, selected and introduced by our faculty," said David Swain, Associate Professor of English at SNHU. "This fall we selected films that highlight the rise of independent cinema – films made outside the studio system – starting with its rebellious roots in the late 1950s films of John Cassavetes, and continuing to the present day. We hope all who attend will find these films provocative and illuminating."

The Fall 2014 Film Series schedule is as follows:

Shadows (1959) on Wednesday October 29 at 5:30 p.m. John Cassavetes, director; hosted by Shawn Powers.

Paris is Burning (1990) on Wednesday, November 19 at 5:30 p.m. Jennie Livingston, director; hosted by Allison Cummings.

Down by Law (1986) on Wednesday, December 3 at 5:30 p.m. Jim Jarmusch, director; hosted by David Swain.

Admission to the events is free and open to the public. For more information on this series, contact Vanessa Rocco at v.rocco@snhu.edu or Colin Root at c.root@snhu.edu.

"Pathways to Moments of Delight," an exhibit of photography by Lisa Allen Lambert, will be on display in the Nashua Public Library Image Gallery in November and December. You can meet the photographer at a reception on Saturday, November 8, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

The photos in the exhibit depict gardens, doors, and pathways in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Maine, and New York State. In addition, a selection of domestic vignettes invites the viewer into the photographer's home.

"I've been told that my work shows the wonderful in the ordinary," says Lambert. "My island childhood, on Nantucket, left its mark: I love all places ocean-side that have a village sensibility."

One of Lambert's photos, "Green Connections," won an award in "A Day in the Life of Southern New Hampshire University," a 2011 photography competition; it now hangs in the school's permanent collection.

"Margaret Bourke-White: Courageous Photographer" at Nashua Library

Don't miss actress Sally Matson's portrayal of photographer Margaret Bourke-White at the Nashua Public Library on Monday, November 10, at 6:30 p.m.

Did you know that Margaret Bourke-White had to make Stalin laugh to get his picture? Or that Patton told her to hide his jowls? Letters and tender World War II-era V-mails form the basis for this living history program.

This event is sponsored by the New Hampshire Humanities Council and the Friends of the Nashua Public Library. Before the show, the Friends will hold a brief annual meeting, with election of officers and refreshments.

The event, which will be held in the Music/Art/Media Wing, is free and open to the public. Registration is not required. For more information contact Carol at (603) 589-4610 or carol.eyman@nashualibrary.org.

Memory Café at Nashua Public Library

Come to the Nashua Public Library on Friday, November 21, from 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. for Memory Café, a monthly gathering of people with early memory loss and their caregivers. Each month's program will have activities centered on a theme, along with plenty of time to enjoy free refreshments and socialize.

This month's theme is veterans. We'll share memories of our own and our family members' time in the service.

At the December meeting, on the 19th, Lisa Allen Lambert will take us on a tour of her photography exhibit hanging in the library's Image Gallery.

If you would like to attend, please register by calling 589-4610 or going to www.tinyurl.com/nplevents and scrolling down to November 21. The event is sponsored by the library and Home Health and Hospice Care.

The library is located at 2 Court Street, Nashua. For directions and parking information go to www.nashualibrary.org/directions.htm. For other information contact Bruce at bruce.marks@nashualibrary.org or (603) 589-4626.

Presenters needed for how-to festival

Do you have a skill you can teach others? The Nashua Public Library is seeking individuals, organizations, and businesses to volunteer to give short (10- to 15-minute) demonstrations of skills or projects to attendees at a how-to festival on Saturday, November 15, 2014. Presenters will teach their skills to small groups of people continually throughout the event. Topics can be as varied as how to juggle, tie a bowtie, hula hoop your way to fitness, use a cool app, complete a home repair, or make a simple holiday gift. Combine your imagination with your skills to come up with an original idea.

Pet of the week at Nevins

STUART

I am a really sweet bun once I feel I can trust you. I like my ears rubbed and to be petted. I use my litter box well so i am ready to roam my new home, with supervision, of course!
I tend to be very protective of my food, aren't we all??? A little respect goes a long way to gaining trust. Go slow taking me out or let me come out on my own. I'm eager to explore and hop around. I will need an experienced rabbit family. If you would like to meet me please stop by and ask about me!

LONGEST RESIDENT - INDIGO

This mellow boy is a real sweetheart. Indigo has a very nice personality. He is affectionate and friendly and he loves to be petted and have his chin scratched and get a good old fashioned head rub. He especially loves to be brushed, which will bring Indigo to a purring crescendo.
Indigo loves toys, and it is so cute to watch him roll over and 'fight' with a stuffed toy or chase a feathery teaser. Indigo would like a quieter family who will be kind and loving to him and give him some time to adjust to his new environment. It may take a few days before he feels secure, but once he is, you will see what a gentle love bug he is.

Indigo came from a home with other cats, and he could possibly live with another mellow cat given a slow introduction. He would also be quite happy as the only cat in the home. He does not want to live with dogs. Quieter, respectful children are welcome.

TOOTSIE

Tootsie is a 2 year old female pot belly pig. She came in with her friend Duke. They would be happy to be adopted together or they can go separately. She is very friendly and smart. She would do best with someone who has experience with pot belly pigs and their behaviors.

Please email barnstaff@mspca.org for more information on Tootsie and our other pot belly pigs!

BELLA

Smart and pretty Bella is a fun loving 6 year old cat. She has many qualities of a perfect feline friend. Bella likes to be near her people and always in the same room. If you have a space next to you, Bella will be there to watch TV or just be. Bella has impeccable manners and never scratches anything that is not hers.

Bella has a unique way of sleeping with her paws up in the air. How cute is that? Bella would like a soft brushing under a warm patch of window sunshine any time. She so enjoys people speaking to her softly. Her purr is loud and immediate. Bella is very gentle and would love to be in a family with children. Bella has lived with a cat before, she would probably like an animal friend after a slow introduction. Bella is an indoor kitty.

RUSTY

Rusty is a 7-year-old Yorkie/Jack Russell Terrier mix. He is an adorable boy who would love to be in a quieter home with older kids or adults. He could be a good living partner for another dog or cat, but would need to meet them first to be sure. He seems to be a little picky about his friends :)

Rusty enjoys going for rides and is happiest when he has his owner's attention. This handsome guy is hoping to meet you soon.

WASHINGTON

This is one adorable bun! He is also a lot of rabbit to love. She is so personable, really enjoying his photo shoot, as you can see from the pictures. He was happy posing and trying to show off his good side, which for him is both! Washington was a stray so we don't have information on him, He appears to be a young male. He is excited to be taken such good care of in the adoption center, but he would prefer a forever home. A ring pen would certainly give him more space than a cage in his new home. Washington is eager to meet you! Come down today to visit him and his bunny friends!

SAVE LIVES: get your pet spayed or neutered Reduced SNAP fees are made possible through generous donations of time and resources by participating veterinarians who believe in the importance of spaying and neutering as part of a complete pet health care program.
