Aumentan casos de COVID-19: Fiorentini pide precaución

El número de casos de COVID-19 en la ciudad de Haverhill y en el estado ha aumentado de manera constante a medida que parece estar aquí la tan temida ola de caída.

El Gobernador Charlie Baker ha impuesto nuevas restricciones diseñadas para frenar o detener la propagación y el alcalde Fiorentini ha tomado medidas a nivel local.

El alcalde ha contratado más rastreadores de contactos, más enfermeras y más inspectores para hacer cumplir nuestras reglas existentes traídas al estado de manera temporal para pruebas gratuitas en el vehículo. El alcalde está instalando letreros en el centro y en lugares públicos para recordarle al público que se requieren máscaras afuera.

El alcalde recuerda a todos que ahora se cree que la principal fuente de propagación son las pequeñas reuniones en el hogar. Les pide a todos que cumplan las reglas establecidas por el Gobernador, no más de 10 personas para cualquier evento bajo techo, no más de 25 para cualquier evento al aire libre.

COVID-19 Cases are up: Mayor Fiorentini Urges Caution

The number of COVID-19 cases in the City of Haverhill and in the state has been increasing steadily as the long-feared fall wave appears to be here.

Governor Charlie Baker has imposed new restrictions designed to slow or stop the spread and Mayor Fiorentini has taken action on the local level.

The Mayor has hired more contact tracers, more nurses and more inspectors to enforce our existing rules, brought in the state on a temporary basis for free drive-up testing,

The Mayor is installing signage downtown and in public places reminding the public that masks are required outside.

The Mayor reminds everyone that primary source of the spread is now believed to be small gatherings in the home. He asks everyone to abide by the rules set by the Governor, no more than 10 people for any indoor event, no more than 25 for any outdoor event.

NECC seleccionado para asociarse con la Marina de los EE.UU.

Northern Essex Community College (Haverhill y Lawrence, MA) ha sido seleccionado como uno de los 119 colegios comunitarios en todo el país para asociarse con la Marina de los Estados Unidos en el establecimiento del United States Naval Community College (USNCC).

Según la información publicada por los Servicios Navales de EE.UU., la USNCC se creó como resultado de una encuesta que descubrió que el talento y el potencial intelectual de los marineros e infantes de Marina alistados en Estados Unidos no se estaban utilizando por completo.

Se compartió una solicitud de propuestas a nivel nacional y 250 universidades respondieron, incluida

Northern Essex.

La Marina estaba buscando universidades acreditadas que ofrecieran programas que brinden habilidades en demanda, como ciencias de la computación, seguridad cibernética, ingeniería, negocios y liderazgo organizacional. También querían opciones de entrega flexibles, asegurando que los cursos fueran accesibles para una fuerza laboral global.

"Este es un respaldo a nuestros programas de vanguardia y nuestras sólidas opciones en línea", dijo Lane Glenn, presidente de Northern Essex. "Como hijo de un infante de marina de carrera, estoy emocionado de que Northern Essex pueda desempeñar un papel en el fortalecimiento de las habilidades de nuestro ejército".

Ahora que se han seleccionado las universidades, la Marina solicita información más detallada. El siguiente paso será comenzar a adquirir servicios de educación y formación.

Los planes son lanzar la USNCC en enero de 2021 con un grupo piloto de aproximadamente 500 marineros e infantes de Marina. Se espera que el programa crezca cada año y alcance operaciones a gran escala de hasta 25,000 estudiantes en enero de 2023.

Satisfacer las necesidades de los veteranos, las personas en servicio y sus familiares siempre ha sido una prioridad en Northern Essex. Más de 200 veteranos o estudiantes relacionados con el ejército están inscritos actualmente en la universidad, y la universidad tiene un Centro para Veteranos, donde los estudiantes veteranos pueden conocer sus beneficios y acceder a servicios como asesoramiento.

Cualquiera que tenga preguntas sobre el Centro de Veteranos de NECC puede visitar el sitio web o comunicarse con Kalyn Ryll, directora del centro de veteranos de NECC, kryll@necc.mass.edu.

Northern Essex Community College tiene campus en Haverhill y Lawrence. Ofrece aproximadamente 60 programas de títulos y certificados asociados, así como cientos de cursos sin crédito diseñados para el enriquecimiento personal y el crecimiento profesional. Cada año, 6,000 estudiantes se inscriben en programas de títulos y certificados asociados con créditos en los campus de Haverhill y Lawrence; y otros 2,000 toman clases de educación comunitaria y desarrollo de la fuerza laboral sin crédito en el campus, y en negocios y sitios comunitarios en todo el Valle de Merrimack. Propuesta del alcalde exime del impuesto a la propiedad personal a 90 empresas "familiares"

El Alcalde James J. Fiorentini propondrá en la reunión del Concejo Municipal del martes (17 de noviembre) aumentar la exención del impuesto a la propiedad personal para las pequeñas empresas de Haverhill de $5,000 a $7,000, una medida que garantizará que otros 90 propietarios de negocios "familiares" no paguen impuesto a la propiedad personal el próximo año.

Hace dos años, a solicitud del Alcalde Fiorentini, el consejo acordó adoptar una ley estatal que establecía la exención de pequeñas empresas, hasta $5,000, del impuesto a la propiedad personal. Desde entonces, la exención ha llevado a que aproximadamente de 900 a 1,000 pequeñas empresas no paguen impuestos sobre la propiedad personal. El aumento de la exención de $5,000 a $7,000, si se aprueba, eximirá a aproximadamente 90 empresas de pagar el impuesto a la propiedad personal, según la asesora de la ciudad Christine Webb.

Los dueños de negocios que caen dentro de la nueva exención propuesta ahorrarán entre $123 y $172 por año en su factura, dijo Webb.

El impuesto a la propiedad personal para pequeñas empresas se aplica a equipos como computadoras y teléfonos para oficinas en casa, sillas y muebles para peluquerías y peluquerías, cortadoras de césped y herramientas de jardín para paisajistas, hornos industriales y equipos de cocina para restaurantes, entre otros ejemplos. El inventario no se considera propiedad personal bajo la exención.

"Actualmente tenemos alrededor de 900 a 1,000 negocios familiares que no pagan ningún impuesto sobre la propiedad personal y ahora, si el concejo está de acuerdo, vamos a ayudar a 90 pequeñas empresas más", dijo el Alcalde Fiorentini. "La idea aquí es ayudar a las personas que más necesitan ayuda, y en muchos casos durante esta pandemia, son nuestros propietarios de pequeñas empresas quienes solo están tratando de sobrevivir en este momento".

La exención aumentada de propiedad personal, si se aprueba la próxima semana, entrará en vigencia el próximo verano el 1 de julio de 2021 (Fiscal 2022).

Mayor's Proposal Exempts 90 "Mom and Pop" Businesses from Personal Property Tax

Mayor James J. Fiorentini will propose at Tuesday's (Nov. 17) City Council meeting to increase the personal property tax exemption for Haverhill small businesses from $5,000 to $7,000 – a measure that will ensure another approximately 90 "mom and pop" business owners pay no personal property tax next year.

Two years ago, at Mayor Fiorentini's request, the council agreed to adopt a state law establishing the small business exemption, up to $5,000, from the personal property tax. Since then, the exemption has led to approximately 900 to 1,000 small businesses paying no personal property tax. Increasing the exemption from $5,000 to $7,000, if passed, will exempt another roughly 90 businesses from paying personal property tax, according to City Assessor Christine Webb.

Business owners who fall within the proposed new exemption will save between $123 and $172 per year on their bill, Webb said.

Personal property tax for small businesses applies to equipment such as computers and phones for home offices, chairs and furniture for barbers and hair salons, lawn mowers and garden tools for landscapers, and industrial ovens and cooking equipment for restaurants, among other examples. Inventory is not considered personal property under the exemption.

"Currently we have around 900 to 1,000 mom and pop businesses that don't pay any personal property tax and now, if the council agrees, we're going to help out 90 more small businesses," Mayor Fiorentini said. "The idea here is to help people who need help most, and in many cases during this pandemic, that's our small business owners who are just trying to survive right now."

The increased personal property exemption, if passed next week, would go into effect next summer on July 1, 2021 (Fiscal 2022).

NECC Selected to Partner with the US Navy

Northern Essex Community College (Haverhill and Lawrence, MA) has been selected as one of 119 community colleges throughout the country to partner with the United States Navy in establishing the United States Naval Community College (USNCC).

According to information released by the U.S. Naval Services, the USNCC was created as a result of a survey that found that the talent and intellectual potential of America's enlisted sailors and marines were not being fully utilized.

A request for proposals was shared nationally and 250 colleges responded, including Northern Essex.

The Navy was looking for accredited colleges that offered programs providing in-demand skills such as computer science, cybersecurity, engineering, business, and organizational leadership. They also wanted flexible delivery options, ensuring courses were accessible to a global workforce.

"This is an endorsement of our cutting-edge programs and our strong online options," said Lane Glenn, president of Northern Essex. "As the son of a career Marine, I am excited that Northern Essex will be able to play a role in strengthening the skills of our military."

Now that the colleges have been selected, the Navy is requesting more detailed information. The next step will be to begin procuring services for education and training.

Plans are to launch the USNCC in January 2021 with a pilot group of approximately 500 sailors and Marines. The program is expected to grow each year reaching full-scale operations of up to 25,000 students in January 2023.

Meeting the needs of veterans, service persons, and their family members have always been a priority at Northern Essex. More than 200 veterans or military-connected students are currently enrolled at the college, and the college has a Veterans Center, where student-veterans can learn about their benefits and access services such as advising.

Anyone with questions about the NECC Veterans Center, can visit the website or contact Kalyn Ryll, NECC's veterans center director, kryll@necc.mass.edu.

Northern Essex Community College has campuses in both Haverhill and Lawrence. It offers approximately 60 associate degree and certificate programs as well as hundreds of noncredit courses designed for personal enrichment and career growth. Each year, 6,000 students are enrolled in credit associate degree and certificate programs on the Haverhill and Lawrence campuses; and another 2,000 take noncredit workforce development and community education classes on campus, and at businesses and community sites across the Merrimack Valley. ESTACIONAMIENTO de

EMERGENCIA: Estacionamiento Alterno Permitido en Ciertas Calles Entre 12:01AM a 6:00PM

La Ordenanza del estacionamiento alternativo durante la temporada de invierno solamente estará en efecto durante las fechas y horas que se especifiquen en la declaración de "EMERGENCIA DE NIEVE Y HIELO" decretada por el Alcalde o la persona que el designe.

Próxima confusión de la prohibición de estacionamiento

El 1 de octubre, publicamos la nueva Prohibición de estacionamiento en invierno en la Ciudad de Lawrence. Se recomienda que lo lea en nuestro sitio web porque este año es diferente.

A diferencia de años anteriores, no tendría que cambiar todas las noches desde el lado de la calle donde estacionó su auto, a menos que sea durante un período de emergencia por nieve, según lo indique el alcalde.

Resultados de las elecciones de Lawrence

No tenía la intención de mencionar las elecciones que acabamos de celebrar porque no quería continuar ese debate; pero curiosa por todas las controversias en las noticias, me comuniqué con el secretario municipal William Maloney y le pedí que me explicara si fuimos afectados de alguna manera.

En primer lugar, explicó que "Lawrence usa un producto de Dominion, pero somos un sistema cerrado sin conexión a la Internet", y agregó que no pudo detectar ningún error que esté a la altura de lo que se está encontrando en otros estados y la prensa no informa la realidad.

"La única razón por la que digo eso es porque el sistema de Lawrence está 'cerrado' y la votación es 'como se esperaba'; teníamos una mayoría para los candidatos demócratas con sólo dos contiendas disputadas: presidente y senador en el Congreso", dijo.

Enseñando desde nuestro pasado

La idea de quitar estatuas es una expresión evidente de ignorancia y presión de ciertos grupos que insisten en que su razonamiento es la única verdad.

Mi opinión sobre esto ofrece una perspectiva diferente en el sentido de que no podemos juzgar el pasado de acuerdo con la cultura y las leyes modernas. Las estatuas se convierten en una herramienta de enseñanza en nuestras comunidades de cómo eran las cosas y cómo deberían ser.

La Ciudad de Haverhill está dividida sobre la estatua de Hannah Duston en GAR Park. La gran ofensa es que la placa que representa su heroísmo llama a los nativos americanos que mató como "salvajes", lo que según los estándares actuales es profano.

Esa historia sucedió en 1697, después de que los nativos mataran a su hijo y la secuestraran a ella y a sus vecinos. Más tarde les arrancó el cuero cabelludo a algunos para escapar.

Así era la vida en el Siglo XVII y lo que encontraron los peregrinos a su llegada. Años más tarde llegó la esclavitud que duró siglos. Esa era su moneda y la riqueza dependía de cuántos esclavos tuvieran. Hoy es impensable, pero así era la vida en estas colonias.

Incluso durante el Siglo XX, las leyes no fueron justas para los negros hasta la última parte y todavía estamos sufriendo las consecuencias de muchas atrocidades cometidas. Pero esa era la vida entonces. Logramos aprender de esos errores para hacer un mundo mejor.

Quitar estatuas solo hará que se olvide la historia. No estoy diciendo que Hannah Duston fuera una asesina o que los nativos fueran salvajes. Esa era la vida entonces.

El Concejal Joseph Bevilacqua está a favor de dejar la estatua en GAR Park. La semana que viene, el Concejo Municipal de Haverhill decidirá si la estatua se queda o si se trasladará a otro lugar. Leamos su historia y apreciemos la vida que vivimos hoy.

Mobiliario excedente en Haverhill

Siempre recibo la agenda del Comité Escolar de Haverhill para sus próximas reuniones y este mes, lo que me llamó la atención fue que la próxima semana decidirán sobre una lista de muebles de oficina en la Escuela Burnham que la Superintendente Margaret Marotta ha declarado como excedente.

Estos artículos están en mal estado y no se pueden usar.

- Camas de reposo (2)
- Mesa de estudiantes
- Partes de partición de oficina
- Archivador lateral
- Archivadores verticales (2)
- Escritorio de metal

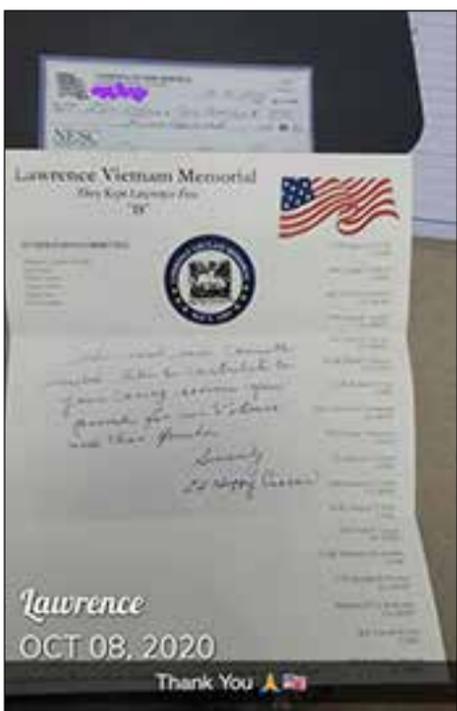

¿Cuándo fue la última vez que vimos un anuncio similar en Lawrence? ¿Qué pasa con las "cosas viejas" cuando reemplazan muebles, máquinas de oficina, etc. Recuerdo haber comprado una vieja impresora láser IBM por $2.00 hace muchos años cuando Eddy B. Baker todavía estaba vivo.

Y para el caso, recuerdo que fui a la estación de policía hace unos 25 años cuando vendieron mercadería robada que no había sido reclamada. En su mayoría tenían bicicletas que vendieron por $10 y $15.

Ah, ¿y los autos confiscados en redadas antidrogas? Hubo mucho ruido en los medios sobre eso hace años pero Lantigua estaba en el poder así que lo convirtieron en un escándalo. Después de eso, nunca supimos de cómo el departamento de policía se deshace de ellos.

Enviando estudiantes de Lawrence High School a trabajar

Por Dalia Díaz

El 1 de octubre pasado, mencioné que 1,000 niños en las Escuelas Públicas de Lawrence no se habían inscrito para trabajar en sus computadoras desde casa y el personal los estaba buscando enérgicamente. Se han detectado algunos casos en los que las familias regresaron a sus países de origen temporalmente y sus hijos iniciaron sesión en sus Chromebooks y realizaron su trabajo escolar.

Había otros estudiantes mayores que no habían regresado a la escuela porque tenían trabajos para ayudar a sus familias en esta economía incierta. Estudiantes buenos y responsables que deberían estar de regreso en la escuela. Otra realidad es que muchos padres tienen que pagarle a otra persona o a una organización que podría ayudarlos porque trabajan durante el día o no son capaces de ayudarlos en casa.

Funcionarios de las Escuelas Públicas de Lawrence nos informaron que el Alcalde Dan Rivera se ha comunicado con el LPS y ha aprobado fondos de COVID-19 para pagar a los estudiantes para que trabajen desde casa, mientras ellos también llevan a cabo su educación.

El propósito es que se inscriban en sus clases virtuales mientras ayudan a sus familias y les dan la oportunidad de graduarse.

Según Víctor Caraballo Anderson, el nuevo director de Lawrence High School, planean contratar a 100 estudiantes. Hasta ahora, han reclutado a 75 y esperan identificar hasta 150 para tener un buen grupo para elegir.

"Nos enfocamos principalmente en estudiantes que dejaron la escuela desde el año pasado", explicó Caraballo. "Hay muchos miembros del personal trabajando en este programa y promete ser una experiencia valiosa para ellos".

El director Caraballo estaba ansioso por explicar cómo funcionará el programa porque además de darles la oportunidad de ganar $20 la hora (algunos estudiantes pueden ganar más) mientras continúan con sus tareas escolares, aprenderán habilidades importantes sobre el mundo laboral real.

Los estudiantes mayores de 18 años no necesitan permiso de los padres, pero los mayores de 16 años deben proporcionarlo. Durante las sesiones de formación, algunos de ellos han mostrado un nerviosismo que solo es lógico porque están entrando en un área desconocida: la formación laboral.

Comenzarán sus asignaciones esta semana trabajando dentro de la comunidad brindando educación sobre COVID-19 al público y negocios en Lawrence.

No sé la razón ni la lógica, pero este es otro programa que está siendo administrado por Martha Vélez, directora de salud y servicios humanos. Todo parece terminar en su escritorio.

Mientras tanto, los Servicios Para Ancianos parecen haber desaparecido al igual que el Consejo de la Vejez, la Comisión de Derechos Humanos, la Comisión de Discapacidad, la Comisión Histórica a la que el alcalde nunca prestó atención, etc.

Sending Lawrence High School students to work

By Dalia Díaz

Last October 1st this column mentioned that 1,000 children in Lawrence Public Schools had not signed up to work on their computers from home and the staff was vigorously looking for them. There are a few cases found when the families went back home temporarily and their children were login into their Chromebooks and doing their school work.

There were other older students that had not returned to school because they were holding jobs to help their families under this uncertain economy. Good and responsible students that should be back at school. Another reality is that many parents have to pay someone else or an organization that could help them because they either work during the day or are not capable to help them at home.

We have been informed by officials of the Lawrence Public Schools that Mayor Dan Rivera has reached out to the LPS and has approved COVID-19 funds to pay students to work from home, while they also conduct their education.

The purpose is to get them to sign up for their virtual classes while helping their families and give them a chance to graduate.

According to Victor Caraballo Anderson, the new principal at Lawrence High School, they plan to hire 100 students. Thus far, they have recruited 75 and hope to identify up to 150 in order to have a good pool of students to choose from.

"We are targeting primarily students who left school since last year," Caraballo explained. "There are many staff members working on this program and it promises to be a valuable experience for them."

Principal Caraballo was eager to explain how the program will work because besides giving them an opportunity to earn $20 an hour (some students might earn more) while continuing their school assignments, they will be learning important skills about the real world of work.

Students over the age of 18 don't need parental permission but those over 16 must provide it. During the training sessions, some of them have shown nervousness which is only logical because they are entering an unknown area: job training.

They will begin their assignments this week working within the community providing COVID-19 education to the public and businesses in Lawrence.

I don't know the reason or logic but this is another program that is being managed by Martha Velez, director of health and human services. Everything seems to end up on her lap.

Meanwhile, the Senior Services seems to have disappeared just like the Council for the Aging, the Human Rights Commission, the Commission on Disability, the Historical Commission that the mayor never paid attention to, etc.

ActivMed se une al ensayo clínico que examina una posible vacuna para COVID-19

ActivMed Practices & Research, Inc., un sitio privado de investigación clínica, anunció que se han unido a un ensayo clínico para examinar la seguridad y eficacia de una vacuna para la prevención de COVID-19 en adultos. El investigador principal del ensayo es Michael J. McCartney, M.D., director médico en jefe de ActivMed, y se llevará a cabo en la ubicación de Portsmouth, NH.

ActivMed está finalizando un ensayo clínico para una prueba de anticuerpos COVID-19 y ahora se une a este estudio de fase III para una posible vacuna. Los participantes del estudio deben tener al menos 18 años de edad, gozar de buena salud general y no haber obtenido resultados positivos previos de la prueba COVID-19.

Actualmente, no hay tratamientos específicos disponibles contra COVID-19 y se necesita con urgencia el desarrollo acelerado de vacunas. Una vacuna segura y eficaz para la prevención de COVID-19 tendría un impacto significativo en la salud pública.

"Nuestro equipo en ActivMed espera poder ayudar a traer una vacuna contra COVID-19 y un final esperanzador a la pandemia", dice el Dr. McCartney sobre esta oportunidad. Continúa diciendo: "Esperamos que nos ayude, ya que estamos buscando participantes en el ensayo. Estamos tratando de proporcionar un entorno lo más seguro posible. Seguimos las recomendaciones de los CDC para la seguridad de los participantes. Es a través de esta colaboración que podremos llevar a cabo este esfuerzo monumental. ¡Esperamos verlo en nuestro sitio de Portsmouth, N.H.!"

Los estudios preliminares muestran resultados prometedores. La vacuna no está aprobada en los Estados Unidos y requiere más pruebas antes de presentar datos para su aprobación por la FDA. El estudio se llevará a cabo en aproximadamente 100 sitios en los EE.UU. y busca inscribir a 30,000 participantes en total. El estudio está patrocinado por AstraZeneca.

ActivMed joins clinical trial examining potential vaccine for COVID-19

ActivMed Practices & Research, Inc., a private clinical research site, announced that they have joined a clinical trial to examine the safety and efficacy of a vaccine for the prevention of COVID-19 in adults. The trial's Principal Investigator is Michael J. McCartney, M.D., ActivMed's Chief Medical Director, and will be conducted in the Portsmouth, NH location.

ActivMed is wrapping up a clinical trial for a COVID-19 antibody test and is now joining this Phase III study for a potential vaccine. Study participants must be at least 18 years old, in good general health, and no previous positive COVID-19 test results.

Currently, there are no specific treatments available against COVID-19 and accelerated vaccine development is urgently needed. A safe and effective vaccine for COVID-19 prevention would have significant public health impact.

"Our team at ActivMed looks forward to help bring a vaccine against COVID-19 and a hopeful end to the pandemic." says Dr. McCartney about this opportunity. He goes on to say "We hope you will help, as we are looking for trial participants. We are trying to provide as safe an environment as possible. We are following CDC recommendations for participant safety. It is through this collaboration that we will be able to conduct this monumental endeavor. Looking forward to seeing you in our Portsmouth, N.H. site!"

Preliminary studies show promising results. The vaccine is not approved in the United States and requires further testing before presenting data for approval by the FDA. The study will be conducted in approximately 100 sites across the U.S. and looks to enroll 30, 000 total participants. The study is sponsored by AstraZeneca.

Hay fondos disponibles para ayudar a los hogares elegibles según sus ingresos de Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover, Reading y North Reading, a pagar una parte de las facturas de calefacción de invierno.

Se invita a los residentes a presentar una solicitud aun si trabajan, viven en viviendas subsidiadas o sus servicios públicos están cubiertos en el alquiler.

“La pandemia de COVID-19 ha tenido un gran impacto en la comunidad, y esto ha hecho que nuestro programa de asistencia de combustible sea más importante que nunca. En este momento de tanta incertidumbre financiera, este programa les ofrecerá una ayuda crítica a las familias que tienen dificultades para pagar la calefacción durante los fríos inviernos de Nueva Inglaterra”, dijo Evelyn Friedman, la directora ejecutiva de GLCAC, que administra localmente el programa de Asistencia de Energía para Hogares de Bajos Ingresos (Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, o LIHEAP).

La elegibilidad se basa en el tamaño del hogar y en los ingresos anuales brutos de todos los miembros mayores de 18 años. Las pautas de ingresos están disponibles en la sección de asistencia de combustible de www.glcac.org.

El programa funciona del 1 de noviembre de 2020 al 30 de abril de 2021.

La oficina de asistencia de combustible

Merrimack Valley YMCA celebra el éxito de su campaña anual

Gracias a la generosidad de la comunidad y el arduo trabajo de los voluntarios y el personal, Merrimack Valley YMCA recaudó $570,000 el año pasado, el mayor total de Campaña Anual en la historia de la organización. Como organización sin fines de lucro, la Y recauda fondos para brindar programas y servicios enfocados en la vida saludable, el desarrollo juvenil y la responsabilidad social.

Los fondos recaudados este año se destinaron a proporcionar becas para personas y familias necesitadas, así como una variedad de programas destinados a ayudar a la comunidad durante la pandemia de COVID-19, como programas que luchan contra la inseguridad alimentaria y cierran la brecha de rendimiento.

Los programas de alimentos de Merrimack Valley YMCA han distribuido casi 50,000 comidas, 4,400 bolsas de comestibles a través de la despensa de alimentos de Lawrence Y, y han servido a más de 300 familias a través de Mobile Food Markets en Methuen YMCA. Cientos de niños han sido atendidos a través de la brecha de rendimiento y los programas de aprendizaje remoto que la Y ha ofrecido desde que comenzó la pandemia.

El personal, los voluntarios y los partidarios de la Y se reunieron para un evento virtual a fines de octubre para celebrar este hito de recaudación de fondos y honrar a los voluntarios sobresalientes que lo hicieron posible.

El Premio a la Creatividad e Innovación Sobresalientes se otorgó al Proyecto Front Steps. Los fotógrafos Kendra y Jen Bauer organizaron un grupo de fotógrafos voluntarios para tomar fotografías de familias en North Andover, recaudando $7,000 para los programas de inseguridad alimentaria Y. Fue una manera genial de crear una conexión social durante una época en la que el aislamiento era real mientras se recaudaba dinero para la YMCA y los Vecinos Necesitados.

El negocio sobresaliente del año fue presentado a Watts Water Technologies. Tim MacPhee aceptó el premio en nombre de Watts, que ha apoyado a Merrimack Valley YMCA durante más de 10 años. La empresa con sede en North Andover ha sido una fuente importante de apoyo para la campaña anual y los eventos especiales de la Y, y también una fuente de voluntarios.

La heroína más destacada del año de la Y fue Debbie Schmidt. Esta incansable voluntaria ha trabajado entre bastidores, participando en los comités de Filantropía y Subasta, así como en campañas de recolección de alimentos y eventos virtuales para la Y.

Groundworks Lawrence fue nombrado Socio Sobresaliente del Año por usar el dinero de la subvención para proporcionar comidas calientes de restaurantes locales a la comunidad a través de Lawrence Y Food Pantry. Este fue un gran ejemplo de cómo las organizaciones pueden unirse para servir a la comunidad. La directora ejecutiva Heather McMann aceptó el premio en nombre de Groundworks Lawrence.

El premio al Filántropo Destacado del Año fue para John Fouhy, miembro de la Junta Directiva de la YMCA de Merrimack Valley, quien fue elogiado por su fuerte liderazgo, dedicación y motivación para ayudar a la Y a alcanzar su objetivo de recaudación de fondos.

Los invitados especiales al evento incluyeron a los representantes estatales Christina Minnicucci y Tram Nguyen, quienes agradecieron a los voluntarios que trabajaron en los comités de Campaña Anual y Eventos Especiales. Esos voluntarios incluyen:

La Campaña Anual:

Henry Calderon, Junta de directores de la sucursal de Andover / North Andover YMCA

Zora Warren, Junta de directores de la sucursal del campamento

Pastor Bill Ingraham, Junta de directores de la sucursal de Methuen

John Fouhy, presidente del Comité de Filantropía y la Junta Directiva Corporativa

Eventos Especiales:

Felix García, Junta Directiva de Lawrence YMCA, Presidente de la rifa de becas Adelante

Anthony Karamourtopoulos, Junta Directiva de Lawrence YMCA, Presidente del Comité de Golf

¡Felicitaciones a todos los que ayudaron a hacer de este un año exitoso para Merrimack Valley YMCA!

Con su sede en Lawrence, Massachusetts, ubicada en el corazón de Merrimack Valley, Merrimack Valley YMCA está representada por Andover / North Andover YMCA, Lawrence YMCA, Methuen YMCA, Camp Lawrence y Camp Nokomis en el lago Winnepesaukee, y Nutria de campamento diurno en Salem, New Hampshire. Cada una de estas sucursales y campamentos atiende las necesidades de comunidades distintas y únicas, lo que hace de Merrimack Valley YMCA una organización rica en diversidad cultural, social y económica. Merrimack Valley YMCA Celebrates Annual Campaign Success

Thanks to the generosity of the community and the hard work of volunteers and staff, the Merrimack Valley YMCA raised $570,000 last year – the biggest Annual Campaign total in the history of the organization. As a non-profit organization, the Y raises funds to provide programs and services focused on healthy living, youth development, and social responsibility.

Funds raised this year went to provide scholarships for individuals and families in need, as well as a variety of programs aimed at helping the community through the COVID-19 pandemic, such as programs that fight food insecurity and close the achievement gap.

Merrimack Valley YMCA food programs have distributed nearly 50,000 meals, 4,400 bags of groceries through the Lawrence Y food pantry, and served more than 300 families through Mobile Food Markets at the Methuen YMCA. Hundreds of children have been served through the achievement gap and remote learning programs the Y has offered since the pandemic began.

Staff, volunteers, and supporters of the Y gathered for a virtual event at the end of October to celebrate this fundraising milestone and honor the outstanding volunteers who made it happen.

The Outstanding Creativity and Innovation Award was presented to the Front Steps Project. Photographers Kendra and Jen Bauer organized a group of volunteer photographers to take pictures of families around North Andover, raising $7,000 for Y food insecurity programs. It was a genius way to create social connection during a time when isolation was real while raising money for the YMCA and Neighbors in Need.

Outstanding Business of the Year was presented to Watts Water Technologies. Tim MacPhee accepted the award on behalf of Watts, which has been a supporter of the Merrimack Valley YMCA for more than 10 years. The North Andover-based company has been a major source of support for the Y’s annual campaign and special events and a source of volunteers as well.

The Y’s Outstanding Unsung Hero of the Year was Debbie Schmidt. This tireless volunteer has worked behind the scenes – participating in the Philanthropy and Auction committees, as well as neighborhood food drives and virtual events for the Y.

Groundworks Lawrence was named Outstanding Partner of the Year for using grant money to provide hot meals from local restaurants to the community through the Lawrence Y Food Pantry. This was a great example of how organizations can come together to serve the community. Executive Director Heather McMann accepted the award on behalf of Groundworks Lawrence.

The award for Outstanding Philanthropist of the Year went to Merrimack Valley YMCA Board of Directors member John Fouhy, who was praised for his strong leadership, dedication, and motivation in helping the Y meet its fundraising goal.

Special guests at the event included State Representatives Christina Minnicucci and Tram Nguyen, who thanked the volunteers who worked on the Annual Campaign and Special Events committees. Those volunteers include:

Annual Campaign:
Henry Calderon, Andover/North Andover YMCA Branch Board of Managers
Zora Warren, Camp Branch Board of Managers
Pastor Bill Ingraham, Methuen Branch Board of Managers
John Fouhy, Chair of the Philanthropy Committee and Corporate Board of Directors

Special Events:
Felix Garcia, Lawrence YMCA Board of Managers, Adelante Scholarship Raffle Chair

Anthony Karamourtopoulos, Lawrence YMCA Board of Managers, Golf Committee Chair
Donna Aldrich, Corporate Board of Directors, Auction Committee Chair

Congratulations to everyone who helped make this a successful year for the Merrimack Valley YMCA!

With its headquarters located in Lawrence, Massachusetts, nestled in the heart of the Merrimack Valley, the Merrimack Valley YMCA is represented by the Andover/North Andover YMCA, the Lawrence YMCA, the Methuen YMCA, Camp Lawrence and Camp Nokomis on Lake Winnepesaukee, and Day Camp Otter in Salem, New Hampshire. Each of these branches and camps serves the needs of distinct and unique communities, making the Merrimack Valley YMCA an organization rich in cultural, social, and economic diversity. Recomendaciones de NECC para la educación sobre el cuidado de la salud después de una pandemia

Dos de los estudiantes de salud aliados de Northern Essex Community College.

Two of Northern Essex Community College's Allied Health Students.

Northern Essex Community College (Haverhill y Lawrence, MA) ha publicado un informe que ayudará a los colegios comunitarios, empleadores y legisladores de todo el estado a desarrollar nuevos modelos de aprendizaje para educar a profesionales de la salud aliados, como asistentes médicos, técnicos, LPN, terapeutas de cuidados respiratorios y técnicos radiológicos, a raíz de la pandemia de COVID-19.

La publicación, Creando más "focos de bondad": fomento de la innovación en la educación sanitaria pospandémica, fue financiada por el Departamento de Educación Superior de Massachusetts a través de su Fondo de Innovación en Educación Superior y escrita por Volta Learning Group, una firma consultora de educación superior. Refleja las aportaciones de educadores, profesionales y legisladores, así como una extensa investigación.

La pandemia de COVID-19 ha extendido a los hospitales y las instalaciones de atención a largo plazo más allá de sus límites. El informe explora los desafíos y ofrece las mejores prácticas dentro del Commonwealth y a nivel nacional para abordar esos desafíos. Se incluyen siete pasos específicos que los legisladores, educadores, reguladores y empleadores pueden tomar para ayudar a promover la fuerza laboral de atención médica de primera línea del futuro.

Lane Glenn, presidente de Northern Essex Community College, dijo: "Este informe dará como resultado una mejor atención médica para los ciudadanos de Massachusetts. Usaremos los hallazgos para ayudar a asegurar la financiación y las asociaciones que conducirán a una mejor educación sobre el cuidado de la salud".

Patricia Marshall, quien como subcomisionada de asuntos académicos y éxito estudiantil en el Departamento de Educación Superior de Massachusetts supervisa el Fondo de Innovación en Educación Superior, expresó su apoyo al informe. "Estamos orgullosos de haber patrocinado este importante trabajo. Las numerosas observaciones y recomendaciones importantes pueden ser realmente un valioso "manual de estrategias de innovación" para el ecosistema de educación sanitaria. Encaja con otros esfuerzos actualmente en curso y puede sugerir una hoja de ruta para el futuro".

El informe está disponible para su descarga en el sitio web de NECC. Para obtener más información, comuníquese con Kim Burns, Decano de Innovaciones Académicas y Desarrollo Profesional en kburns@necc.mass.edu.

NECC's Recommendations for Post-Pandemic Health Care Education

Northern Essex Community College (Haverhill and Lawrence, MA) has released a report that will help community colleges, employers, and policymakers statewide develop new learning models for educating allied health professionals, such as medical assistants, technicians, LPN's, respiratory care therapists, and radiologic technicians, in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic.

The publication, Creating More "Pockets of Good": Fostering Innovation in Post-Pandemic Health Care Education, was funded by the Massachusetts Department of Higher Education through its Higher Education Innovation Fund and written by Volta Learning Group, a higher education consulting firm. It reflects input from educators, practitioners, and policymakers as well as extensive research.

The COVID-19 pandemic has stretched hospitals and long-term care facilities beyond their limits. The report explores the challenges as well as offering best practices from within the Commonwealth and nationally to address those challenges. Included are seven specific steps policymakers, educators, regulators, and employers can take to help advance the frontline health care workforce of the future.

Lane Glenn, president of Northern Essex Community College, said "This report is going to result in better health care for Massachusetts citizens. We will use the findings to help secure funding and partnerships that will lead to improved health care education."

Patricia Marshall, who as deputy commissioner for academic affairs & student success at the Massachusetts Department of Higher Education oversees the Higher Education Innovation Fund, expressed her support of the report. "We are proud to have sponsored this important work. The many important observations and recommendations can truly be a valuable 'innovation playbook' for the health care education ecosystem. It dovetails other efforts currently underway and may suggest a roadmap for the future."

The report is available for download on the NECC website. To learn more, contact Kim Burns, Dean of Academic Innovations, and Professional Development at kburns@necc.mass.edu.

Middlesex Community College: Student success starts here!

MCC Sets Up Veteran and Military-Connected Students for Success

Although the majority of courses and student services are online for the Fall 2020 semester due to the pandemic, Middlesex Community College has continued to connect with students. As Middlesex supports all students, the Veterans Resource Center (VRC) strives to ensure MCC veteran and military-connected students remain on their paths to academic, professional and personal success.

The VRC is providing virtual support for military service members who are beginning a college career or returning to complete an academic program. Veterans and military-connected students can receive information about educational programs, assistance with accessing college resources, and answers regarding eligibility for government-, state- and community-sponsored services.

Jessica Frost, Director of the VRC, believes in taking a holistic approach to supporting veteran and military-connected students. According to her, many of these students are older and often try to handle situations on their own. Frost and the VRC want to make sure the students know that at Middlesex there is a built-in system of support to directly help their needs.

"There are so many different complexities that our students are facing in this particular population that we want to make sure they're supported in every way that we can," she said. "It's also about self-advocacy. I try to let them know that I'm here to support them and to not only provide academic advising, but career development – to look at how their wellness is going, to make sure they are getting any mental and physical support."

As a veteran and MCC alumna herself, Frost understands that returning to school can be overwhelming. Many students have to manage academic responsibilities on top of family and other personal needs. There is also a culture change for veteran students – going from a stricter schedule in the military to following a more flexible schedule at school. Having a dedicated place with resources that help students adjust is valuable to their retention and persistence to graduation.

"Every time a student crosses the stage and graduates, that's a win-win for us all," Frost said. "When I see our students with their cord – they have a special red, white and blue cord – that's always a special time for me and it makes me so proud when I see how hard our students work."

In Green Zone Trainings run by the VRC, MCC faculty and staff learn how to better support veteran and military-connected students. The training helps participants better understand the experience these students bring with them. To Frost, it is important to build a foundation in a positive way to set students up for life-long success. The combination of work the VRC does with student services across the college – including tutoring and advising – helps MCC veteran and military-connected students look forward to their futures with excitement and potential.

MCC's Veterans Resource Center strives to ensure veteran and military-connected students remain on their paths to academic, professional and personal success. Jessica Frost, Director of the VRC, believes in taking a holistic approach to supporting veteran and military-connected students.

"That's one of the reasons I do what I do," Frost said. "I love the idea of giving back to our veteran and military-connected students because they need the support – it's important so that they don't ever feel that they have to figure it out on their own."

Frost will also often encourage veteran students to take on a mentoring role with younger students in their classes. She suggests they share their lived experiences and help classmates understand the importance and value of going to school.

In the Fall semester, the VRC has hosted online events and meetings for veteran and military-connected students to connect with each other as they become members of the college community. Based on a survey Frost sent out in the spring, students expressed interest in a Veterans Day event, as well as workshops on wellness, executive functioning skills and career development. Frost set up a two-part Veterans Day Series called Unsung Heroes in History and the Unseen Foe of World War I that takes place the week of Veterans Day.

In collaboration with MCC's Multicultural Center, the first session of the series will be a presentation called The Harlem Hell Fighters: Black Soldiers from World War I Onward by Ron Jones, Director of Dialogues and Diversity, a theatre company. The lecture discusses the struggle African Americans suffered to move into the middle class of America and how they were not recognized as soldiers and sailors in World War I and World War II.

The second session will be a presentation called The Unseen Foe: Camp Devens in the 1918 Influenza Epidemic. This timely workshop run by Cara Fosse, Fort Devens Museum Executive Director, will talk about how military members were affected by the influenza pandemic.

YWCA y Ciudad de Lawrence se asocian para la violencia doméstica

La YWCA y la Ciudad de Lawrence recibieron recientemente una subvención federal para brindar asistencia y servicios de apoyo para vivienda de transición a corto plazo a personas que huyen de la violencia doméstica. Esta subvención proporcionada por la Oficina de Violencia contra la Mujer (OVW) también ayudará a las víctimas de agresión sexual, amigos o violencia por acecho.

La visión de este financiamiento es crear una sólida red de seguridad para los sobrevivientes de violencia doméstica apoyando las viviendas de transición existentes, aumentando la disponibilidad de viviendas de transición y servicios, creando una red de propietarios dispuestos a proporcionar viviendas de transición para los participantes del programa y empoderando a las víctimas a través del desarrollo de la fuerza laboral. para avanzar hacia la autosuficiencia.

El proyecto propuesto es una respuesta directa a la alta prevalencia de violencia doméstica y la imperiosa necesidad de todos los servicios para las víctimas y sobrevivientes de violencia doméstica y agresión sexual que viven en Lawrence y las comunidades circundantes del Condado de Essex.

Un indicador de la necesidad de la comunidad del Gran Lawrence es el número de solicitudes de órdenes de protección/restricción presentadas ante el Tribunal de Distrito de Lawrence, donde la YWCA emplea a dos abogados de la corte bilingües a tiempo completo.

YWCA se asociará con The City of Lawrence y MassHire Merrimack Valley Career Center para traer seis unidades adicionales de vivienda de transición y servicios de apoyo para sobrevivientes de violencia doméstica en la Ciudad de Lawrence. MassHire brindará a los participantes acceso a programas de capacitación laboral y desarrollo de la fuerza laboral. "La YWCA cree que proporcionar viviendas seguras y asequibles a los sobrevivientes y sus familias es clave para empoderar a las familias para que se recuperen y avancen hacia la autosuficiencia", dijo Sue Staples, directora ejecutiva.

El Alcalde Daniel Rivera cree que "las sobrevivientes de violencia doméstica, violencia sexual y acoso pueden enfrentar muchos desafíos en lo que respecta a la seguridad de la vivienda. Estos desafíos se han visto exacerbados por el impacto de la pandemia de COVID-19 y la inestabilidad financiera y de vivienda que están experimentando muchos de nuestros residentes. El acceso a una vivienda segura y de apoyo es fundamental en el viaje de un sobreviviente hacia la curación y la autosuficiencia, y nos complace colaborar con la YWCA en esta subvención federal para ayudar a brindar asistencia de vivienda de transición a las víctimas inseguras de la violencia, dándoles una cosa menos. de qué preocuparse mientras plantan los pies en el suelo".

"Como alguien que trabajó con sobrevivientes de violencia doméstica y sexual durante muchos años, y que ahora apoya la creación y preservación de viviendas seguras, asequibles y accesibles y la prevención del desamparo en mi función actual, entiendo y valoro la importancia de una asociación como esta con la YWCA de Northeastern MA. Es imperativo que proporcionemos oportunidades de vivienda muy necesarias a los sobrevivientes de las personas en crisis", dijo Vilma Martinez-Dominguez, directora de desarrollo comunitario de la Ciudad de Lawrence.

La YWCA trabajará en estrecha colaboración con los empleados de la Ciudad de Lawrence y el Centro de Carreras de MassHire Merrimack Valley para brindar servicios adicionales de administración de casos y asistencia en la búsqueda de empleo, respectivamente.

YWCA and City of Lawrence Partner for Domestic Violence

The YWCA and the City of Lawrence recently received a federal grant to provide transitional, short-term housing assistance and support services to individuals fleeing domestic violence. This grant provided by the Office for Violence Against Women (OVW) will also help those victims of sexual assault, dating, or stalking violence.

The vision of this funding is to create a robust safety net for survivors of domestic violence by supporting existing transitional housing, increasing transitional housing and service availability, creating a network of landlords amenable to providing transitional housing for program participants, and empowering victims through workforce development to move toward self-sufficiency.

The proposed project is a direct response to the high prevalence of domestic violence and the compelling need for all services to victims and survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault living in Lawrence and surrounding Essex County communities.

An indicator of the Greater Lawrence community's need is the number of filings for protective/restraining orders brought to Lawrence District Court, where the YWCA employs two full-time bi-lingual Court Advocates.

YWCA will partner with The City of Lawrence and MassHire Merrimack Valley Career Center to bring six additional units of transitional housing and support services for survivors of domestic violence in the city of Lawrence. MassHire will give participants access to workforce development and job training programs. "The YWCA believes providing safe, affordable housing to survivors and their families is key to empowering families to heal and move towards self-sufficiency," said Sue Staples, Executive Director.

Mayor Daniel Rivera believes that "survivors of domestic violence, sexual violence, and stalking, can face many challenges when it comes to housing security. These challenges have been further exacerbated by the impact of the Covid-19 pandemic, and the housing and financial instability that many of our residents are experiencing. Access to safe and supportive housing is critical in a survivor's journey to healing and self-sufficiency, and we're pleased to collaborate with the YWCA on this federal grant to help provide transitional housing assistance to insecure victims of violence, giving them one less thing to worry about as they plant their feet into the ground."

"As someone who worked with survivors of domestic and sexual violence for many years, and who now supports the creation and preservation of safe, affordable and accessible housing and homelessness prevention in my current role, I understand and value the importance of partnership like this one with the YWCA of Northeastern MA. It is imperative that we provide much-needed housing opportunities to survivors of those in crisis," said Vilma Martinez-Dominguez, Community Development Director for the City of Lawrence.

The YWCA will work closely with the City of Lawrence employees and the MassHire Merrimack Valley Career Center to provide additional case management services and job search assistance, respectively.

EMERGENCY PARKING BAN: Alternate Parking on Certain Streets between 12:01 AM to 6:00 PM.

The winter alternate parking ordinance shall only take effect during the dates and times specified in a "SNOW AND ICE EMERGENCY" issued by the Mayor or his/her designee.

The snow emergency shall remain in effect until the Mayor rescinds it. Notice of any such rescission shall be given in the same manner as the issuance of the declaration.

Upcoming Parking Ban confusion

On October 1st, we published the new Winter Parking Ban in the City of Lawrence. It is recommended that you read it on our website because this year it's different.

Unlike years past, you would not have to switch every night from the side of your street where you parked, unless it is during a period of snow emergency as called by the mayor.

Lawrence Elections' results

There was no intention of mentioning the elections we just had because I didn't want to continue that debate; but curious about all the controversies in the news, I contacted City Clerk William Maloney and asked him to explain if we were affected in any way.

First of all, he explained that "Lawrence uses a Dominion product, but we are a closed system with no internet connection," adding that he could not detect any errors that are to the extent of what is being found in other states and the media fails to report otherwise.

"The only reason that I say that is because the Lawrence system is 'closed' and the vote is 'as expected'; we had a majority for Democratic candidates with only two contested races – President and Senator in Congress," he said.

Teaching from our past

The idea of removing statues is a glaring expression of ignorance and pressure from certain groups insisting that their reasoning is the only truth.

My opinion of this offers a different perspective in that we cannot judge the past according to modern culture and laws. Statues become a teaching tool in our communities for the way things were and how they should be.

The City of Haverhill is divided over Hannah Duston statue at GAR Park. The big offense is that the plaque depicting her heroism is calling the Native Americans she killed as "savages" which by today's standards is profane.

That history happened in 1697, after the Natives killed her child, kidnapping her and her neighbors. She later scalped some of them in order to escape.

That was life in the 1600s and what the Pilgrims encountered upon their arrival. Years later came slavery which lasted for centuries. It was their currency and wealth depended on how many slaves they had. Unthinkable today but that was life in these colonies.

Even during the 20th Century, laws were not fair to Blacks until the latter part and we are still suffering the consequences of many atrocities committed. But, that was life then. We managed to learn from those mistakes to make a better world.

Removing statues will only cause history to be forgotten. I am not saying that Hannah Duston was an assassin or the Natives were savages. That was life then.

Councilor Joseph Bevilacqua is in favor of leaving the statue at GAR Park. Next week the Haverhill City Council will be deciding if the statue stays or if it will be moved to another location. Let's read up on her story and appreciate the life we live today.

Surplus furniture in Haverhill

I always receive the Haverhill School Committee agenda for their upcoming meetings and this month, what caught my attention was that they will be deciding next week over a listing of office furniture at Burnham School that Superintendent Margaret Marotta has declared as surplus.

These items are in disrepair and unable to be used.

- Nursing beds (2)
- Student table
- Office partition parts
- Lateral file cabinet
- Vertical file cabinets (2)
- Metal desk

When was the last time we saw a similar announcement in Lawrence? What happens to the "old stuff" when they replace furniture, office machines, etc. I remember buying an old laser IBM printer for $2.00 many years ago when Eddy B. Baker was still alive.

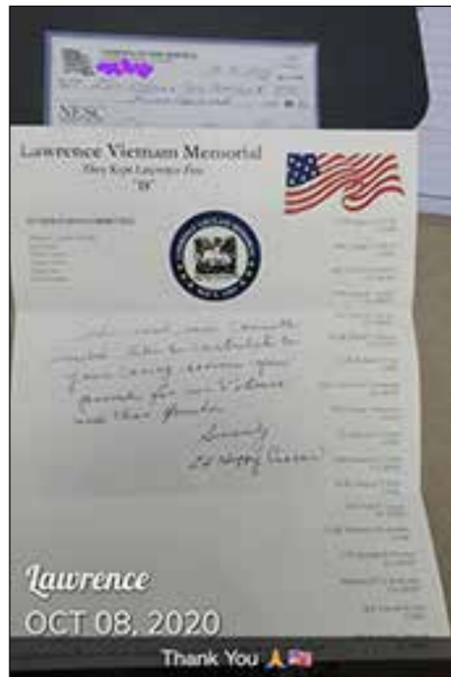

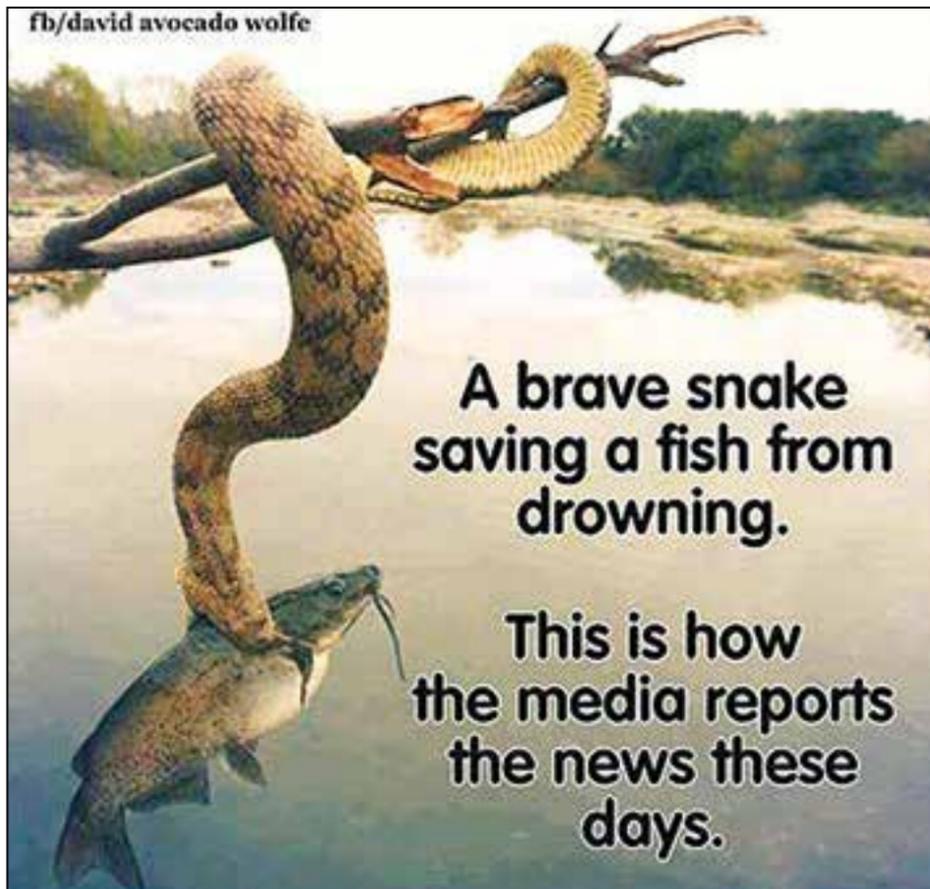

And for that matter, I remember going to the police station some 25 years ago when they sold unclaimed stolen merchandise. It was mostly bikes sold for $10 and $15.

Oh, and the cars taken on drug raids? There was a lot of noise in the media over that years ago but it was Lantigua in power so it became a scandal. After that, we never heard of how the police department disposes of them.

USCIS anuncia una prueba de cívica de naturalización revisada

WASHINGTON— Los Servicios de Ciudadanía e Inmigración de EE.UU. anunciaron planes para implementar una versión revisada de la prueba de civismo para la naturalización. La agencia anunció por primera vez planes para revisar la prueba de educación cívica en julio de 2019.

USCIS revisó la prueba de educación cívica como parte de una actualización decenal para garantizar que siga siendo un instrumento que evalúe de manera integral el conocimiento de los solicitantes sobre la historia, el gobierno y los valores cívicos de Estados Unidos.

La prueba de educación cívica se administra a los solicitantes que solicitan la ciudadanía estadounidense y es uno de los requisitos legales para naturalizarse. Los solicitantes que soliciten la naturalización a partir del 1 de diciembre de 2020, tomarán la versión actualizada del examen. Aquellos que presenten su solicitud antes del 1 de diciembre de 2020, tomarán la versión actual de la prueba.

“USCIS ha trabajado diligentemente en la revisión de la prueba de naturalización desde 2018, confiando en los comentarios de expertos en el campo de la educación de adultos para garantizar que este proceso sea justo y transparente”, dijo el subdirector de políticas de USCIS, Joseph Edlow. “La naturalización permite que los inmigrantes se conviertan en miembros de pleno derecho de la sociedad estadounidense, con los mismos derechos y responsabilidades que los ciudadanos por nacimiento, y ofrecer una prueba justa, que prepare a los solicitantes de naturalización para estas responsabilidades, es de suma importancia para nuestra agencia”.

La prueba revisada incluye más preguntas que evalúan la comprensión del solicitante de la historia y la educación cívica de los EE.UU., de acuerdo con los requisitos legales, y cubre una variedad de temas que brindan al solicitante más oportunidades de aprender sobre los Estados Unidos como parte del proceso de preparación de la prueba. La prueba revisada no cambiará el puntaje de aprobación, que se mantendrá en 60%. Los candidatos deben responder correctamente 12 preguntas, de 20, para aprobar.

USCIS mantendrá las pautas actuales para las consideraciones especiales establecidas por ley para los solicitantes que tengan 65 años o más y que tengan al menos 20 años de residencia legal permanente. A estos solicitantes se les harán 10 preguntas y deben responder correctamente un mínimo de seis preguntas para aprobar.

Los elementos de la prueba y las guías de estudio se pueden encontrar en el Centro de Recursos de Ciudadanía en el sitio web de USCIS. USCIS también ha actualizado el Manual de políticas de USCIS en consecuencia; consulte el Volumen 12, Parte E, Exámenes y excepciones de inglés y educación cívica, Capítulo 2, Pruebas de inglés y educación cívica.

USCIS puso a prueba el examen con organizaciones comunitarias y voluntarios en todo el país en el verano de 2020. Los datos recopilados de esta prueba piloto se utilizaron para ayudar a USCIS a tomar decisiones sobre el lenguaje y la estructura gramatical de los elementos de prueba individuales, los pesos lingüísticos y cognitivos asignados a cada prueba y para identificar aquellos elementos apropiados para los solicitantes que tienen 65 años o más, han tenido el estatus de residente permanente legal durante al menos 20 años y se les concede una consideración especial por ley.

USCIS Announces a Revised Naturalization Civics Test

WASHINGTON— U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services announced today plans to implement a revised version of the naturalization civics test. The agency first announced plans to revise the civics test in July 2019.

USCIS revised the civics test as part of a decennial update to ensure that it remains an instrument that comprehensively assesses applicants’ knowledge of American history, government and civic values.

The civics test is administered to applicants who apply for U.S. citizenship and is one of the statutory requirements for naturalizing. Applicants who apply for naturalization on or after Dec. 1, 2020, will take the updated version of the test. Those who apply before Dec. 1, 2020, will take the current version of the test.

“USCIS has diligently worked on revising the naturalization test since 2018, relying on input from experts in the field of adult education to ensure that this process is fair and transparent,” said USCIS Deputy Director for Policy Joseph Edlow. “Naturalization allows immigrants to become fully vested members of American society, with the same rights and responsibilities as citizens by birth, and offering a fair test, which prepares naturalization applicants for these responsibilities, is of utmost importance to our agency.”

The revised test includes more questions that test the applicant’s understanding of U.S. history and civics, in line with the statutory requirements, and covers a variety of topics that provide the applicant with more opportunities to learn about the United States as part of the test preparation process. The revised test will not change the passing score, which will remain at 60%. Candidates must answer 12 questions correctly, out of 20 in order to pass.

USCIS will maintain the current guidelines for statutorily established special considerations for applicants who are 65 years old or older and have at least 20 years of lawful permanent resident status. These applicants will be asked 10 questions and must answer a minimum of six questions correctly in order to pass.

The test items and study guides can be found on the Citizenship Resource Center on the USCIS website. USCIS has also updated the USCIS Policy Manual accordingly; see Volume 12, Part E, English and Civics Testing and Exceptions, Chapter 2, English and Civics Testing.

USCIS piloted the test with community-based organizations and volunteers across the country in summer 2020. The data collected from this pilot was used to help USCIS make determinations about the language and grammatical structure of individual test items, linguistic and cognitive weights assigned to each test item, and to identify those items appropriate for applicants who are 65 years or older, have held lawful permanent resident status for at least 20 years and are granted special consideration by statute.

For more information on USCIS and its programs, please visit uscis.gov or follow them on Twitter (@uscis), Instagram (/uscis), YouTube (/uscis), Facebook (/uscis), and LinkedIn (/uscis).

“Veamos qué podemos aprender”, Katie y Sean

Katie y Sean se enteraron de las clases para compradores de vivienda de la madre de Katie. Pensaron: "Nunca tendremos suficiente dinero para comprar una casa, pero veamos qué podemos aprender". Dieron el primer paso y se inscribieron en el curso en febrero de 2019. Katie es maestra de escuela y Sean trabaja como asistente de marketing de productos.

Las clases les enseñaron lo que tenían que hacer, lo que debían tener en cuenta y con qué debían tener cuidado. Lo que más recordaron fueron las presentaciones del inspector de viviendas y el prestamista hipotecario. Al completar las clases, programaron una cita con el consejero de compradores de vivienda certificado por HUD de MVHP. Juntos crearon un plan. "Aprendimos que podíamos mantenernos dentro de nuestro presupuesto y comprar una casa", dijo Katie. "Las hojas de seguimiento del presupuesto hicieron que todo fuera real", comentó Sean.

La evaluación de la preparación del hogar nos ayudó a darnos cuenta de que no estábamos listos para comprar una casa. Sean y Katie trabajaron muy duro para reducir sus deudas y mejorar su crédito. Las cosas encajaron. Después de seguir su plan, fueron preaprobados para una hipoteca.

"Examinamos unas 15 casas y nuestro agente de bienes raíces nunca nos hizo sentir mal por no hacer una oferta". Trabajaron con Teresa McDaid de Sterling Stone R.E. "Estábamos nerviosos porque COVID golpeó durante la construcción, pero nuestro lugar estaba terminado y cerramos a tiempo. Estábamos abrumados por desempacar y acomodarnos en nuestro nuevo hogar. Nuestros padres fueron un gran apoyo en todo momento". Compraron un condominio recién construido en Tyngsborough.

"Nos llamó la atención en el cierre cuando obtuvimos las llaves. Somos dueños de nuestra propia casa", dijo Sean.

Formaron un excelente equipo de profesionales. Además de su agente de bienes raíces, trabajaron con Donna Koulas de Northern Bank and Trust, el inspector de viviendas Jeff Adams de Adams Inspections y la abogada Catherine Flood, quienes hicieron el cierre.

Felicitaciones Katie y Sean.

Homeowners of the Month

“Let’s see what we can learn,” Katie and Sean

Katie and Sean heard about the home buyer classes from Katie’s mother. They thought “We’re never going to have enough money to buy a house but let’s see what we can learn.” They took the first step and signed up for the course in February of 2019. Katie is a school teacher and Sean works as a product marketing assistant.

The classes taught them what they needed to do, what to look out for, and what to be cautious about. The things they remembered most were the presentations by the home inspector and the mortgage lender. Upon completing the classes, they scheduled an appointment with MVHP’s HUD-certified homebuyer counselor. Together they created a plan. “We learned that we could stay within our budget and buy a house.”, said Katie. “The budget tracking sheets made it all real,” commented Sean.

The home readiness assessment helped us realize we weren’t ready to buy a home. Sean and Katie worked very hard to reduce their debts and improve their credit. Things fell into place. After following their plan, they were pre-approved for a mortgage.

“We looked at about 15 houses and our real estate agent never made us feel bad about not making an offer.” They worked with Teresa McDaid from Sterling Stone R.E. “We were nervous because COVID hit during the construction but our place was finished and we closed on time. We were overwhelmed with unpacking and getting settled in our new home. Our parents were so supportive throughout”. They purchased a newly built condo in Tyngsborough.

“It hit us at the closing when we got the keys. We own our own home,” said Sean.

They put together a terrific team of professionals. In addition to their real estate agent, they worked with Donna Koulas of Northern Bank and Trust, home inspector Jeff Adams of Adams Inspections, and attorney Catherine Flood who did their closing.

Congratulations Katie and Sean.

A Libertarian Walks Into a Bear ...

In 2004, the Free Town Project launched a plan to take over Grafton, N.H., and completely eliminate its government. Public funding shrank, and the anything-goes atmosphere soon caught the attention of Grafton's neighbors: the bears. Citizens ignored hunting laws and regulations about food disposal. The bears smelled food.

African Community Center's 4th Annual Celebration With Giving 2020

November 21st, 2020 - 4pm-6pm

Join us to celebrate in this time of Challenges and Hope!!

Dear ACCL Supporter,

The African Community Center of Lowell is proud to celebrate its 4th Anniversary Celebration. Our organization was founded in October 2016 with the mission to provide assistance and progress in the community for African immigrants and refugees. Our core values include: direct support to our immigrant and refugee education, Peace & conflict advocacy and providing opportunities to participate in our cultural heritage. The Lowell community is a vibrant community immersed with diverse members, cultures and history. Along with the thriving members of the community are those who are less privileged, struggling to adapt to our culture and meet their basic needs. Our core mission is to help those individuals who we target that need our help and to use whatever resources and tools needed directly to support them as well as to give them the tools needed to empower their own efforts.

To create a stronger, more stable and progressive community, we collaborate with other local and regional organizations as needed throughout the year and this collaboration builds a stronger and unified effort and a larger network. Along with this important resource, we need ongoing monetary donations to support our non-profit organization. This is the backbone that allows us to go forward.

Due to the pandemic, our 4th annual anniversary will be virtual for the first time. We will celebrate with speeches, music, and dance and hold our traditional auction of African handbags and African paintings.

In addition, we are extremely excited to announce a special fundraising effort to sustain the Center. We are glad to share with you, artwork done by a well-known Boston artist, Robert Freeman. He has generously offered to donate a portion of the proceeds to the Center to help us move forward. Please visit our website for more information about the artist and the paintings. www.acclowell.org

We are glad to inform you also that this year we have nominated award recipients from the work they do in our community and their affiliation with the Center. For the first time we are going to present an award to these recipients:

1. Eastern Bank - The highest contributor to the Center from our community - $10,000
2. Daniel Howell - An employee at Lowell Community Health Center who the Center had the privilege to work with during the Covid-19 Testing week, where we tested 1,168 people along with a team from Lowell Public Health Department.
3. Ron Dossa - Our own youth from our Summer Program who has been nominated to be among The Lowell City Mayor Youth Ambassador Leadership.

Thank you again for your continued support.

Stay safe and well.

NEC Reveals Men's Basketball Preseason Coaches Poll at Virtual Media Day

After winning the 2019-20 Northeast Conference (NEC) Regular Season Championship in its first season of Division I membership, the Merrimack College men's basketball team was selected seventh in the NEC's annual preseason coaches' poll. The predicted NEC finish was announced during Thursday's NEC Virtual Media Day.

2019-20 Jim Phelan NEC Coach of the Year – and senior forward Devin Jensen represented the program virtually at media day, discussing the team's expectations for the year. Gallo's career record stands at 81-45 (.643), winning at least 19 games in each of his four years on campus. The 20 wins in 2019-20 established a new wins record for a first-year Division I program. Jensen and junior guard Mikey Watkins are the squad's top-two returning scorers at 7.5 points per game. The former returns as the top 3-point shooter in the NEC, hitting 43.5 percent of his attempts one year ago.

One year ago, the Warriors went from being selected to finish last to winning the conference with a 14-4 league record (20-11 overall). Merrimack's defense was the team's calling card, leading the conference in scoring defense (60.2 points allowed/game), 3-point field goal percentage defense (.302), steals per game (9.9) turnovers forced (17.4) and turnover margin (5.58). On the offensive side, Merrimack employed a balanced attack with six players averaging over 6.0 points per game.

Fairleigh Dickinson was picked as the preseason favorites in the conference, receiving six of 10 first-place votes. The remaining four tallies went to the second-place program, Long Island University. Bryant University and Mount St. Mary's ranked in a tie for third while Saint Francis Brooklyn rounded out the top-five spots. Saint Francis University arrived at No. 6, right before the Warriors. The final three spots in the poll (No. 8-10) went to Wagner, Central Connecticut and Sacred Heart, respectively.
